The Famous Packsaddle of the Conemaugh, Where the Fast Mail Went Over the Cliff.

KIMBERLING FAILS TO END HIS LAST RUN

Train Goes Into Conemaugh River at the Packsaddle.

HIS RESIGNATION HAD BEEN SENT IN

Lifeless Body of Engineer Taken from Ruins and Fireman Dies Later.

MAKING RECORD RUN TO REGAIN LOST TIME

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Johnstown, Pa., July 30.—Plunging along at a rate that easily exceeded a mile a minute in an effort to make up 50 minutes of lost time, train No. 11 on the Pennsylvania, a fast westbound mail, was wrecked this morning at 11:50 o'clock at "the Packsaddle," 23 miles from this city. The engineer and fireman were killed and several mail clerks were slightly injured.

The dead:

ENGINEER JOHN W. KIMBERLING, Altoona; went down to death with his engine in the Conemaugh river.

FIREMAN H. M. NICELY, Altoona; died on the way to the West Penn hospital.

The injured:

JOHN F. WILLS, mail clerk, New York.

H. H. Wirt, mail clerk, New York.

Kimberling was whipping his train along at a speed that is seldom made on the Pittsburgh division. Between Gallitzin and Conemaugh he had to slacken to the schedule, but once he left Conemaugh he was free to cut his engine loose. All went well until the famous Packsaddle was reached. While the train was flying around the curve the monster engine gave a sudden lurch and leaped from the rails, straight into the huge rocks and boulders of the upper side of the track.

Then the Boiler Exploded.

The impact was so great that the boiler exploded and sent the engine and two of the mail cars rolling down the 200-foot embankment into the river.

The engine and three mail cars made up the train. The third car was thrown across the four tracks and lodged.

In one of the mail cars together were the two mail clerks. When they felt the jerk of the car both jumped and clung to the iron cross bars provided in mail and baggage cars for such emergencies, while the cars rolled down into the river. Conductor George Howard, who was in charge of the train, Mail Clerk Charles H. Foster and Brakemen McGinnus and W. F. Conrad were all in the last car and escaped injury.

All trains east and west got around the wreck by way of the West Penn branch several hours late. An immense amount of New York mail is strewn and crushed and torn in the wreckage. Special mail cars and special mail clerks from Pittsburgh were sent to "the Packsaddle" early in the afternoon to gather up all that is recoverable.

Engineer Kimberling's resignation was in the hands of the company to take effect after his run of today. In leaving Altoona he told his friends: "I am going out on my last run today."

Leaves a Fine Record.

Engineer Kimberling was long in the service of the Pennsylvania railroad. He was the most daring engineer in the service. A short time ago he made the remarkable record of 86 miles in 86 minutes from Gallitzin to Pitcairn, though from Gallitzin to Conemaugh, 20 miles, he was obliged to keep within the schedule time, so that trainmen figure that the 70 miles he made from Conemaugh to Pitcairn was in 60 minutes. It is believed he was making another record run today, his last trip when the fatal swerve at the Packsaddle came.

Kimberling, who was 50 years of age, leaves a widow and three children. He was prominent in religious, political and Masonic circles and exceedingly popular.

For many years Kimberling and Henry Gardner ran the same engine on alternate days, west on No. 3 and east on No. 18. Engineer Gardner was killed three years ago at the tower just east of Stewart station, east-bound. His engine, No. 74, unaccountably left the track, staggered across one way, then turned the other and fell on its side, with Gardner underneath. He was killed instantly. The two men were widely known as among the best and most careful engineers on the road.

HIGH SPEED CAUSED MAIL TO JUMP TRACK

According to the talk among the trainmen the cause of the wreck of the fast mail of the Pennsylvania railroad that jumped the track at the Packsaddle yesterday, was the unusual rate of speed at which this train was running when it struck the curve at Packsaddle. The wrecked train, No. 11, is the fast westbound New York-St. Louis mail. It is the fastest through train on the road, not excepting even the Pennsylvania limited special, and is a light train, carrying only three cars.

With this light equipment a high rate of speed is maintained daily. It was said last evening that an attempt was being made to run from Altoona to Pittsburgh, 117 miles, in one hour and 50 minutes, or 110 minutes. This would have broken all records. It was said further that up to the point at which the accident occurred the requisite speed for this run had been made and the last four miles immediately before the engine left the track are re-

RIOT AND DEATH RULE IN SHENANDOAH STREETS

Cousin of Sheriff Beddal Clubbed to Death by Mob, and Half a Dozen Policemen and Score of Strikers Are Injured, Several Fatally.

THIRD BRIGADE ORDERED TO SCENE OF LAWLESSNESS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Shenandoah, Pa., July 30.—Shenandoah, the largest town in Schuylkill county, and the center of Mine District No. 9, which was the scene of the first bloodshed and riot during the strike of two years ago, tonight saw a repetition of that affray, the result of which is that one man is dead and half a dozen of the town's policemen and a score of rioters are seriously wounded, some of them fatally. A reign of terror prevails and Sheriff Beddal has called upon the governor to send a detachment of the national guard to aid him in preserving order.

The attempt to operate several collieries and washeries in the valley brought about the trouble. The stoning of the breaker at the West Shenandoah colliery and the beating of non-union men there seemed to presage the startling events of tonight.

Since 6 p. m. Center street, which is one of the principal thoroughfares of the town, has been in the hands of an infuriated mob.

One Man Clubbed to Death.

Two of the borough policemen were shot, one perhaps fatally. Joseph Beddal, a leading merchant and cousin of Sheriff Beddal, was brutally clubbed to death and upward of a score of strikers, whose names cannot yet be ascertained, were shot by policemen, and it is expected that many deaths will result.

Sheriff Beddal arrived from Pottsville at 7:45 o'clock with a posse of deputies. He has taken up his headquarters at the Ferguson hotel. He said he has asked Gov. Stone to send the militia. The governor wired that if the citizens of the town petition for troops he will send them and a petition is being circulated. It is almost certain that the troops will be here tomorrow.

The trouble started about 6 o'clock this evening, when Deputy Sheriff Thomas Beddal attempted to escort two non-union workers through the strikers' line of pickets. The workmen were dressed in their street clothes, but one of them carried a bundle under his arm, and this aroused the suspicion of the strikers. The bundle was torn from him and when it was found to contain a blouse and overalls the man was taken from the deputy and beaten almost to death.

Fired Into the Mob.

Deputy Beddal opened fire on the mob and emptied his revolver. Two shots took effect, one man being shot in the leg and the other in the foot.

The deputy and the other strike breaker were now compelled to fly for their lives and took refuge in the Philadelphia & Reading depot. The depot was soon surrounded by an angry mob of 5,000, which was becoming more threatening and demonstrative every moment. Joseph Beddal, a hardware merchant and brother of the deputy sheriff, was seen making his way through the crowd in an effort to reach his brother, and the mob, divining that he was carrying ammunition to those inside the depot, seized him and beat him with clubs and billies into insensibility. He died en route to the Miners' hospital.

Shortly after this the entire borough police force arrived on the scene and escorted the deputy sheriff and his man to an engine which had been backed into the depot. When the mob realized that its prey was about to escape the engine was surrounded and the engineer was afraid to move. In a few moments, however, the police fired a volley, dispersing the crowd for a brief period and the engineer turned on full steam and got away with his men.

Mob Only Wavers.

Stones were now thrown thick and fast about the heads of the police, whereupon Chief Fry gave the order to fire. At the first volley the mob wavered, and several men were seen to fall. The retreat, however, was but momentary. The crowd turned and with revolvers, stones, and even a few shotguns, they charged on the little band of policemen and made them fly for their lives. The policemen turned in their flight at short intervals and fired volley after volley at their pursuers, but the mob was thoroughly infuriated and smoking revolvers seemed to cause no terror. When the Lehigh railroad crossing was reached a passing freight train blocked the progress of the policemen, two of whom were caught and brutally beaten. One of them, Siney Yacopsky, will die.

It is estimated that upward of 1,000 shots were fired, and the wonder is that more fatalities did not result. More than 20 strikers, all of whom were foreigners, were shot, and at least two of them will die.

Many of the merchants and politicians are refusing to sign the call for troops, fearing that the miners will boycott them after the trouble is over, and as the governor has made the sending of troops contingent on the petition of citizens there is some doubt as to whether they will be sent.

At 11 o'clock tonight the streets were still crowded with people, but everything was quiet.

Wounds of Forty Dressed.

The doctors of the town dressed the wounds of nearly 40 strikers, all of whom were foreigners whose names could not be ascertained. It is known at midnight that four out of the six policemen were shot. Chief Fry received a slight wound in the hand. Yacopsky was shot in the neck and head and may die; Ringheiser was shot in the hand and back, not seriously; Laurites was shot several times and cannot recover.

The following printed notice was posted by the mine workers all over the town tonight:

"In view of the disturbances that have occurred in Shenandoah within the past 24 hours, in utter disregard to the teachings and principles of the United Mine Workers as an organization, and contrary to the explicit instructions of the leaders, we call upon all members of the United Mine Workers to at once do all in their power to suppress lawlessness, and to aid the officers in every way to maintain peace and good order.

JOHN FAHEY,
"(Signed.) "President, District No. 9."

TROOPS READY TO MOVE.

Part of Third Regiment Expects to Reach Shenandoah by 5 A. M.

SUNBURY, PA., July 31.—At 12:45 this morning Col. S. M. Clement of the Twelfth regiment, N. G. P., received orders from Adjt. Gen. Stewart at Harrisburg to mobilize his command excepting the Lock Haven and Danville companies and proceed to Shenandoah at once. It is expected the soldiers will reach there by 5 a. m.

WILLIAMSPORT, PA., July 31.—Maj. Updegraff of the Second battalion, Twelfth regiment, received orders at 2 o'clock this morning from Col. Clement at Sunbury to leave for Shenandoah at 3 a. m., with what troops have assembled.

GOVERNOR ORDERS TROOPS TO SCENE

Fifteen Hundred Men Will Be Rushed Into Shenandoah This Morning To Restore Peace.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, July 31.—The Eighth and Twelfth regiments and the governor's troop, National Guard of Pennsylvania, were ordered at midnight to Shenandoah to suppress the rioting strikers. General Gobin will be in command of the troops and will leave here early this morning in a special train with the camp equipage and Companies I and D, Eighth regiment. Gobin has ordered his staff to report for duty at Shenandoah, and it is expected that all the troops will reach there by daylight.

Colonel Theodore F. Hoffman of Pottsville will have command of the Eighth regiment, which is composed of companies located at York, Tamaqua, Pottsville, Mahanoy City, Carlisle, St. Clair, Chambersburg and two in Harrisburg. The Twelfth regiment is commanded by Colonel Charles M. Clement of Sunbury, and is composed of companies located at Lewisburg, Milton, Danville, Lock Haven, four at Williamsport and two at Sunbury. Captain Fred M. Ott of Harrisburg will be in command of the governor's troop. The total strength of these three organizations is about 1,500.

The camp equipage was shipped from the state arsenal immediately after the troops were ordered out.

The decision to order out the troops was reached at midnight after Governor Stone had been advised of the situation by Generals Stewart and Gobin. Orders will be issued tomorrow by Major General Miller formally detailing General Gobin to command the troops.

The governor's decision to order out the troops was reached after the receipt of the following telegram from Sheriff Beddal, dated Shenandoah:

"Deputy sheriff and two assistants surrounded and one killed. Three of mob shot by sheriff; three local police officers shot, one possibly fatal. Town is without police protection and local government terrorized. Citizens threatened by mob if sign petition. Feeling running very high. Mine workers' committee admit foreign element is beyond control. Mob is beyond control and situation requires greatest haste. Sheriff is powerless for want of sufficient assistance."

The messages from Sheriff Beddal were received here and immediately repeated to the governor at Paul Smith's in the Adirondack mountains.

Gov. Stone started for Harrisburg at 8 o'clock this evening and expects to reach here on the Chicago limited at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. He is being fully advised of the situation and the movement of the troops by Secretary Gerwig. Arrangements have been made with the telegraph and railroad companies along the route over which the executive is traveling to transmit to him messages received from the Schuylkill county authorities.

RIOT AND PANIC AT THE FUNERAL OF RABBI JOSEPH

Devout Jews Attacked by Hoodlums in Streets of New York.

MANY PERSONS TRAMPLED UPON

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 30.—The funeral of Chief Rabbi Jacob Joseph, head of the Orthodox Hebrews of the United States, which was held today, was the occasion of one of the most remarkable demonstrations ever witnessed in this city, and led to a collision between the mass of Jewish mourners and the police. The streets were packed with thousands of Hebrews, the stores were generally closed and every point of vantage along the route taken by the funeral procession to the different synagogues was crowded.

Directly in front of the house where the body has lain in state for a few days more than 100 patrolmen kept the crowd from the entrance with considerable difficulty. After the services at the house the body was taken to each of the six synagogues on the East Side, where brief services were held.

Water Thrown from Windows.

When the procession was passing the printing press factory of R. Hoe & Co. in Grand street, on its way to the cemetery in Brooklyn, several employes of the factory emptied pails of water from the windows of an upper door on the heads of the spectators massed upon the sidewalk. Pail after pail was emptied on the throng which shouted and struggled and stampeded in a vain effort to escape. Then overalls and clothing soaked in water came down from above, and even tools, scraps of steel, bolts and a dead cat.

The angry mourners, most of whom were Hebrews, retaliated by throwing back into the factory windows the missiles that fell on them. They also gathered up stones and sticks and in a few minutes there was scarcely a whole pane of glass in the Grand street side of the factory. Then someone in the factory turned on a hose and played it indiscriminately all over the funeral procession. At one time as many as five streams were playing on the crowd. Drivers of mourning carriages whipped up their horses, trampling over citizens, and the stronger men trampled women and children under foot in their efforts to escape.

The police, in the meantime, had taken a hand in the trouble and were clubbing the people right and left. They were, however, unable to cope with the crowd, and the reserves of half a dozen precincts were dispatched to the scene.

It was more than half an hour before order was restored and the streets in the vicinity of the factory cleared. A number of arrests were made, among them being several employes of the Hoe company.

Many persons were found about the streets, bleeding from wounds on the head and other parts of the body. Ambulances were summoned and three responded. The surgeons were kept busy for some time dressing the wounds of the injured. Several policemen also were injured, receiving cuts and bruises. Two men were taken to the hospital. One of them had sustained internal injuries and contusions and the other a sprained leg.

Later in the day the persons arrested were arraigned in police court and fines of $5 and $10 were imposed in several instances.

Hoe Makes Statement.

Robert Hoe of the printing press company made a statement after the trouble was over in which he says fighting was going on in the ranks of the procession as it passed the factory; that some of those attacked were forced to the door of the office, and there the fighting continued while missiles thrown by the crowd broke many windows of the factory.

"Then it was," says Mr. Hoe, "that his employes tried to drive the assailants back by hurling missiles at them and finally turning water on the crowd. He added that boys working in the factory had been in the habit of jeering at Hebrews and he tried everything in his power to have the practice stopped, even discharging boys of whom complaint was made.

After the riot had been quelled the funeral procession proceeded to Brooklyn, where the body of Rabbi Joseph was interred.

DES MOINES, IA., July 30.—The Republican state convention today named the following ticket: Secretary of state, W. B. Martin of Adair county; auditor of state, B. F. Carroll of Davis county; treasurer of state, Gilbert S. Gilbertson of Winnebago county; attorney-general, H. Mullan of Black Hawk county; judge of supreme court, Scott M. The only controversy was over the tariff and trust utterances of the platform and that was settled in the committee on resolutions in favor of a reiteration of last year's utterances, with an addition to the trust plank congratulating President Roosevelt on the inauguration of judicial proceedings to enforce the anti-trust laws, and upholding his Cuban policy.

OPERATOR TIED UP RAILROAD SYSTEM.

UNIONTOWN, PA., July 30.—(Special.)—After working day and night for four days, the operator at Smock, on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad quit his position yesterday evening and tied up this end of the road. No heed was paid to his protests and no one sent to relieve him. Worn out and unable to keep awake longer, he sat up the block and left the office before the last passenger train for this place from Pittsburgh had passed. It was an hour late getting here, because there was no one to get orders for them.

NEW YORK VOTES ALL BUT COUNTED FOR ROOSEVELT

Senator Platt Says How State Is for President's Nomination.

POLITICS TALKED AT SAGAMORE HILL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 30.—"President Roosevelt will have a solid delegation from New York state to the next Republican national convention."

This statement was made this evening by Senator Thomas C. Platt of New York after a conference with the president at Sagamore hill.

Senator Platt was accompanied to Mr. Roosevelt's country home by Col. George W. Dunn of Binghamton, chairman of the Republican state committee of New York. The visit to the president was by appointment. At 9:30 in the morning Senator Platt and Col. Dunn boarded the government yacht Sylph at New York and 15 minutes later the trim little ship was under way for Oyster Bay. They arrived off the J. West Roosevelt landing at 12:38 and were conveyed immediately to the shore in a launch. At the landing they were met by one of the president's carriages and driven directly to Sagamore Hill. After a cordial welcome by Mr. Roosevelt luncheon was announced.

State Affairs Mainly Discussed.

During the two hours' conference which ensued both national and New York state politics were discussed, the discussion, quite naturally, revolving principally around state affairs. Senator Platt briefly but comprehensively reviewed the political situation in both the national and state fields. He already had declared himself to be a supporter of Mr. Roosevelt for the presidential nomination in 1904, and he expressed the opinion that, barring serious contingencies, the president would be nominated to succeed himself. Mr. Platt assured Mr. Roosevelt that perfect harmony existed among the leaders and the rank and file of the Republican party in New York, and that without doubt the entire Republican ticket would be elected this fall.

Shortly after 3 o'clock Senator Platt, leaning on the arm of Col. Dunn, descended the steep flight of steps to the J. West Roosevelt landing to take the launch for the Sylph. Physically he looks stronger and better than he has looked for several months. He said he felt "very well indeed."

Visit Entirely Satisfactory.

In response to inquiries the senator said he and Col. Dunn had a very pleasant talk with the president.

"The object of our visit to Sagamore Hill," suggested Col. Dunn, "was to discuss pending national matters with President Roosevelt and to inform him of the condition of the Republican party in the Empire State. Our interview was entirely satisfactory."

Discussing the political situation in New York state, Senator Platt said:

"Perfect harmony exists among the leaders and among the rank and file. President Roosevelt will meet no opposition in his own state."

"We did not discuss local appointments with the president," continued the senator. "Our talk was particularly on national and state politics, conditions rather than personal."

Mr. Platt said he understood Gov. Odell in a few days would visit the president to discuss New York affairs with him.

At 3:25 the Sylph weighed anchor and sailed for New York.

Bicycle Racer Arrested.

C. C. Hartman of No. 105 West End avenue, Allegheny, who was to have entered a bicycle race at the North Side Collosseum last night, was arrested and locked in the Central police station, shortly before the race took place. He is charged before Magistrate Hunneshagen of Allegheny with stealing a bicycle from Charles E. Ashton of No. 40 Hazelwood avenue, Hazelwood.

Patrick McHugh Goes to Jail.

LONDON, July 30.—Patrick A. McHugh, Nationalist member of parliament, left the house of commons tonight, accompanied by the governor of the Sligo jail, in which Mr. McHugh is to serve three months' imprisonment. Mr. McHugh was arrested on June 15.

ported to have been made in just two minutes, or at the rate of 120 miles an hour. It is steep down-grade, on which a high speed is possible.

Whether there was something wrong with the track, or—if the talk of the trainmen is true—the speed was so great that to round the curve was impossible remains yet to be seen. This is not the first fast run of this train. A few weeks ago it made a run of 92 miles in 86 minutes over the same territory it was traversing yesterday.

There are two purposes, it is believed, in the speed at which the train is run. One is to secure United States mail contracts; the other the testing of the possibilities for the still faster passenger trains that are planned to start in a year or so.

John Kimmerling, the dead engineer, had a reputation among his fellow railroad men for absolute fearlessness when at the throttle. He was a quiet man, who never spoke ill of anyone and was very popular. He was 57 years of age, married, and lived at Altoona.

The tracks were blockaded for seven hours. The first train through was the Pennsylvania limited which reached Pittsburgh only half an hour late.

The mail from the wrecked train and the delayed mail arrived at the postoffice about 9 o'clock. A large force of men were ready to "work" it, and in an incredibly short time they had the hundreds of pouches and sacks empty and piled on a truck.

There were very few pieces of mail matter damaged. Much of it was damp, but very little had been wet enough to cause the addresses to be obliterated. All will be delivered this morning. All of the mail for west of Pittsburgh was forwarded direct and not "worked" over here, as it would have been if the mail had been wet or badly damaged.

URGE PURE, SAFE WATER.

Report of Chamber of Commerce Sanitation Committee Nearly Ready.

The Pittsburgh chamber of commerce sanitation committee report, shortly to be given to the chamber, urges an adequate supply of pure water by mechanical or sand filtration. The report will say: "The prevention of disease involves the proper dealing with the questions of water supply, food supply, disposal of waste and sewage, the condition of tenement houses and districts, the management of contagious and infectious diseases, isolation, disinfection and house-to-house sanitary inspection.

"We need not dwell upon the question of water supply, for its quality and the slow progress toward supplying pure and safe water for the people of Pittsburgh are matters of common knowledge and anxiety." Samuel Diescher, W. L. Scaife and Joseph W. Marsh form the committee making this report.

The report urges the importance of establishing an isolation hospital in Pittsburgh, approving the move already made in this direction, and recommends substantial appropriations by the city, not only for current expenses, but to cover the exigencies of the city's growth.

The report says that during 1901 there were 130 cases and three deaths from smallpox, 768 cases and 165 deaths from diphtheria and croup, 892 cases and 117 deaths from scarlet fever, 3,097 cases and 440 deaths from typhoid fever and 66 deaths from measles.

THE WEATHER.

Another fair day, with warmer weather, is predicted for Pittsburgh and vicinity today by the Washington weather bureau. A REAL PIANO.

Costs a Very Little More Than the Worthless Instruments Which Flood the Country—Hamilton's Clearance Sale Offers Irresistible Bargains.

The average person would resent the imputation that he deliberately selects an imitation article in preference to the genuine. But, notwithstanding, there are a great many persons who somehow have purchased "imitation" pianos. The instruments in some instances are rather attractive to the eye. Some even retain their tone quality for a little while. But all such pianos must betray their weakness sooner or later, and usually it is only a matter of a few weeks till the purchaser is confronted by the fact that he has made a serious mistake. However, in most cases it is too late to do any real good. So the instrument is often permitted to remain in the home for a time, although all who hear it or play on it are distressed to realize that the poorest piano purchase was ever made.

The one way to avoid unsatisfactory pianos is to purchase the instrument you need at a store that is known to sell only reliable makes.

A rare opportunity is now offered customers at Hamilton's. The firm's semi-annual clearance sale is in progress, on account of which prices are greatly reduced. You can save from a third to a half the regular price. And when you consider that you can have the use of the piano in your own home all the time you are paying for it, there is no reason why anyone should fail to take advantage of this sale, if thinking of purchasing.

But don't wait till it is too late. The sale will soon end. The bargains are numerous and include the following:

PIANOS—New and used.
ORGANS—New and used.
ANGELUS PIANO PLAYERS—New and used.
MUSIC BOXES—New and used.
TALKING MACHINES—New and used.
MANDOLINS, GUITARS, CORNETS, ETC.

Hamilton Building,
335 and 337 Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh.

PENNSYLVANIA'S GOOD INFLUENCE HAS BEEN BROAD

Judge Pennypacker Rebukes Boastings of Anonymous Massachusetts Man.

SENATOR QUAY MALIGNED

Has Made Strong Impression Upon Development of Our National Life. Real Character Shown in His Sense of Truth of Things.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Pa., July 30.—Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker, Republican candidate for governor, commented today at length upon, and added new features to, what has become known as his "Eulogy of Quay."

Judge Pennypacker seemed to take rather a humorous view of the situation, as he pointed out what seemed to him to be the self-evident truths of his published statements. With animated voice and gesture he dwelt upon the abilities of American statesmen, among whom he numbered Mr. Quay.

The interview came about in this way: The Atlantic Monthly for last October published an anonymous and, according to Judge Pennypacker, a "vicious" article, entitled "The Ills of Pennsylvania." Judge Pennypacker thought the statements contained there, comprising parallels between Massachusetts and this state and references to Pennsylvania politics, should be rebuked. He, consequently, prepared a paper, "in which is pointed out along broad lines how great has been the influence for good of Pennsylvania in comparison with that of Massachusetts, and how strong an impression this commonwealth has made upon the development of our national life."

The paper was sent to the magazine and declined. It was then published in pamphlet form.

The Things That Count.

"They say a great deal in Massachusetts about Daniel Webster," he said, "and rightfully so. Daniel Webster was a great lawyer and a great statesman. Yet he had many things in his life that were not admirable. Does that detract from the value of the work that he did? After all, it's the things a man accomplishes in the world and for his country that count, not the little things of his life.

"Then there was Henry Clay. He was another great man, living for a great object. Coming to congress from Kentucky, the people of Kentucky stuck by him, and sent him back again and again, irrespective of the things they said about him. The fact that Webster and Clay did this or that or the other were not the consequential things. It was the great benefits they conferred on their country that counted.

"Mr. Quay, I think, is in many ways a man of more power and greater than Webster or Clay. The one thing that impresses me in him is his idea of the sense of the truth of things. You must form an estimate of the man from what he does. That indicates his real character.

"Take that incident related of him in the civil war. While serving in the union army and just before Fredericksburg, he was taken ill. It was a case in which he might have escaped duty on account of that illness. Did he do so? No. Ailing and unfit though he was, he insisted on going into action and rode into the battle of Fredericksburg in front of his lines.

A Look at His Works.

"Then look what he has done in this state. Ask Swank, who it is he would select to do the most efficient and effective work in any matter referring to the iron and steel industries. The answer would be: 'Senator Quay.' Then there is a merely sentimental project. Ask Gen. Nicholson, who helped most in making Gettysburg the most comprehensive and best marked battlefield in the world. He will reply 'Senator Quay.'

"A good illustration of Quay's character came to my notice a few weeks ago. I was visited by a man from Indiana, a distant connection, who did not know of my relations with Quay. He said there was a man out there in Indiana, a veteran in the civil war and a Democrat at that, who had tried in every way to get a pension and failed. Finally some one suggested that he write to Senator Quay. The veteran did so and Quay took the matter up and got the old man a pension.

"'We think a great deal of Quay out there in Indiana,' my visitor added, 'and don't know why it is you say so many things against him here in Pennsylvania.'

"Now, there was a case showing the generosity of a man. That was not a project that could bring Quay any gain.

"Then, look at the test of a man's greatness, the services he has performed for his country."

His Influence Permanent.

Judge Pennypacker took up the paper and read: "He has permanently influenced the destinies of the American people."

"Isn't that a service to his country, and isn't it true?"

Judge Pennypacker paused to remark, then illustrated the statement with this clause from the paper:

"Since it was due to his individual capacity and effort that Mr. Harrison was elected to the presidency and the Republican party restored to control, that the force bill was prevented from becoming a law and, in a large measure, that the McKinley tariff bill was enacted.

"Then what a test of a man's character and ability it was," he continued, "in the events of several years ago? With the Pennsylvania and the governor of the state and Dave Lane and the traction interests arrayed against him, Quay, by mere force of character and splendid generalship, held his place, defeated his enemies and came off the victor."

"There never has been a great man without his detractors," suggested the reporter. "It is not a penalty of prominence?"

"Why, look at the things they said about Napoleon," Judge Pennypacker replied. "It was not the discreditable things, but the great deeds he accomplished that made Napoleon a great figure in history. So it should be with men who have great things to do. Yet they keep Mr. Quay here in the state giving his attention to trifles when he ought to go outside the state and do the great things."

OAK HILL FAMILIES GET THEIR COAL FOR NOTHING

The Pennsylvania railroad is making a big fill at East Pittsburgh for new yards, but the people living in the neighborhood are carrying away the filling as fast as they can and piling it up in their back yards. Some have their cellars full and hardly know what to do with the surplus. Yesterday they were hauling away the ballast in wagons.

The ballast is coal. It is not bright, shiny coal, such as the Consolidated company sends down the river in barges, nor is it as good to look upon as the coal delivered by the coal man, but it is real coal, in good-sized lumps, and it will give just as much heat next winter as the best.

The railroad company is killing two birds with one stone. It is making a cut at Stewart and a fill at East Pittsburgh. In this cut is a big coal vein and the coal goes to the dump with the dirt. About 200 families at Oak Hill will not buy coal this winter.

STABBED COUSIN OUT OF JEALOUSY

MRS. GORDON THOUGHT HUSBAND TOO ATTENTIVE TO COUSIN.

After He Had Left She Ordered the Young Girl Out and When She Refused To Go, Plunged Knife Into Her Breast.

Because she was jealous of the attention her husband paid to his pretty colored cousin, Mary Powell of Roanoke, Va., Mrs. Ella Gordon, also colored, of No. 5801 Kirkwood street, East End, stabbed her in the left breast yesterday afternoon at their home and fatally injured her. She was removed to the East End Charity hospital and it was said last night that her condition was still precarious. The wife was locked up in No. 6 police station to await the result of her cousin's injuries.

The knife penetrated the Powell woman's breast just over the heart. It was jealousy entirely that led the wife to commit this rash act. From what could be learned last night, it was utterly without foundation. The young girl was a guest of her cousin, Monroe Gordon, and she came to this city about 10 days ago from Roanoke, Va.

Gordon was fond of her. When he was at home, he was very attentive to her. His wife did not like this, but refrained from showing her uneasiness until a few days ago. She complained to her husband that he was inattentive to her since his pretty cousin had been their guest.

Gordon laughed at this and told her she was foolish. Yesterday they quarreled about his attention to his cousin. He left the house, thinking that he had dissipated the anger of his wife. After he departed she ordered Mary Powell to leave the place. The girl refused to do this.

They quarreled frequently. At noon they were in the parlor and renewed the wordy fray again. In her anger, Mrs. Gordon pulled a knife from her dress and plunged it into the breast of Mary Powell. The girl screamed and fell to the floor. Her cries aroused another inmate of the house, Addie Porter, also colored. She ran down stairs and found the wounded woman unconscious and her assailant standing over her.

Mrs. Gordon suddenly realized the rashness of her act and ran from the rear of the house. Addie Porter went out to No. 8 engine house and spread the alarm among the firemen. Fireman Harry Weaver was soon on the scene, and learning that Mrs. Gordon was making her escape started to hunt her. He chased her for several squares, when he met Officer Steve Carr and they both entered into the chase. She was captured at Shetland avenue.

When taken to the police station she refused to talk about the affair, except to say that Mary Powell knew why she stabbed her. The wounded woman was taken to the East End Charity hospital in No. 6 patrol wagon. Monroe Gordon, whom the women quarreled over, was greatly shocked at the action of his wife, and anxious over the serious condition of his cousin.

BURGESS M'DERMITT RESIGNS HIS OFFICE

Chief Executive of McKees Rocks Is Leaving Borough—Salary Question Yet Unsettled.

A surprise was sprung in McKees Rocks yesterday, when it was announced that Burgess Neil McDermitt had resigned and that a petition had been presented to court, asking for the appointment of John P. Gillen to fill the unexpired term.

The first question that arose was whether McDermitt would ask for any salary or not. The burgess' pay has long been a matter of discussion in the borough, many citizens saying that he was not entitled to any, owing to the fact that he does not try the police cases, turning this part of the work over to Justice of the Peace C. F. Engle, who takes $2.85 costs out of every case. These costs amount to nearly $1,500 a year that would otherwise go to the borough.

No warrants have been issued by council to pay McDermitt's salary and it was the intention of many of the residents to fight any such action, on the grounds that he did not do the work.

Mr. McDermitt when seen last night said that he was resigning because he was going to move into Stowe township, where he conducts a liquor store.

STRIKE AT ALTOONA.

Three Hundred Silk Weavers Quit Work Out of Sympathy for Discharged Men.

ALTOONA, PA., July 30.—(Special)—Through sympathy for two fellow employes who attended a meeting to organize a union among the silk mill workers and who were discharged this morning, 300 weavers, representing all the departments of the big Altoona silk mill, have gone on strike. This evening they held a mass meeting and discussed plans for future actions.

None of the women workers at the mill are yet in the strike. Tonight police are guarding the plant and it is possible that trouble may occur tomorrow if an attempt is made to fill the places of the strikers.

Angry Husband Threw Lamp.

Dido Christhead threw a lighted lamp at his wife last night at their home, No. 562 Lenora street, East End, during a quarrel. The woman dodged the lamp, which struck the wall behind her and exploded. The lighted oil was scattered over the room and furniture, setting it afire. A neighbor turned in an alarm from box 650. The loss amounted to $25. Christhead was arrested.

SETTLE A DISPUTE AT A RING FIGHT.

A merry little mill came to an unpleasant end yesterday when William Beltzhoover and James Moore, both residents of Mt. Washington, were arrested on a charge of assault and battery made by Inspector William McShane. The arrests follow an argument which started between the men in a saloon Monday night and was settled Tuesday evening in a regular ring with seconds and all the accompaniments of a prize fight. The fight took place in Bailey's woods, and Beltzhoover is said to have been the winner. Inspector McShane heard about it yesterday and both men will have a hearing this morning.

SECOND TOUGH LED TO ARREST OF THE COUPLE

Badger Game Was Worked Once on Merchant of Fourth Avenue.

GOT $200 THE FIRST TIME

When John I. Major Attempted to Secure $300, as Second Installment, He Was Led Into Trap and He and Woman Locked Up.

Charged with being suspicious persons, a man giving his name as John I. Major, and his alleged wife, Ida, of Carson street, South Side, were arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives William Bradley, George W. Wagoner and Richard Kelly and locked up in the Central police station. It is alleged that the couple have been working the badger game on a well-known business man of this city. On July 3, he says, they succeeded in getting $200 from him and yesterday Major demanded $500 more.

It was the last demand that led to the apprehension of the couple. They say they have been in this city three months and came here from Johnstown. On July 3 a business man whose name the police refuse to divulge made the acquaintance of Mrs. Major at Fourth avenue and Smithfield street. She proposed they go to her home in Boyle street, Allegheny, and she would get him something to drink.

After they had been in the house a short time her husband entered the house and seemed very much provoked when he found his wife sitting on the knee of a stranger. He became enraged and violent and threatened to expose him and enter suit for alienating the affections of his wife.

Merchant Gave Up.

The merchant is some 60 years old and said that he could not stand the notoriety of the case. He offered to make a settlement, and it was promptly accepted. He gave Major $200 and nothing more was heard of the couple until yesterday afternoon. Major came to his office in Fourth avenue and demanded $500. He said if this money was not forthcoming he would enter suit immediately.

This was too much for the business man and he immediately made arrangements with Major to meet him at Fourth avenue and Wood street and give him the money. He sent to the bank and drew five $100 bills. He was about to start for the meeting place when he was met by a friend whom he told of the trouble.

His friend advised him to call on Superintendent McAleese and make information against the couple. After some persuasion he agreed to ask protection from the police. A description of Major was given to Detective George Waggoner and he started to Fourth avenue and Wood street, found the man described to him and placed him under arrest.

Prisoner Identified.

At the police station he disclaimed all knowledge of the affair and later he said that he would enter suit if he was prosecuted and expose his informant. The business man promptly identified him and he was locked up. Detective William Bradley was detailed to arrest the woman, and later brought her to the police station.

Last night she told Detective Waggoner and Superintendent McAleese that she was not married to Major and had first met him in Johnstown. She declared that she never knew of him receiving any money from the merchant in question. He represented himself to her as an agent, but she was unable to tell where he had been employed.

This morning they will be arraigned for a hearing before Police Magistrate Bernard McKenna. She is 28 years old and he is 10 years her junior. Both were well dressed and had every semblance of respectability. From the letters found on their persons they have been living in Buffalo, Detroit, Erie, Altoona, Johnstown and Allegheny.

UNIONTOWN, PA., July 30.—Everything is in readiness for the second annual reunion of the Tenth Pennsylvania infantry, U. S. V., which will be held here tomorrow. At the same time will be held a meeting of the Pennsylvania Society of the Army of the Philippines.

The occasion is the anniversary of the battle of Malate, where these veterans of Luzon received their first baptism of fire and earned their first distinction. Carr will speak a welcome, and Col. J. E. Barnett and Chaplain Joseph L. Hunter will respond.

ROYAL PATIENT PACES THE DECK

KING EDWARD ENJOYS HIS FIRST WALK IN SUNSHINE.

Earl of Denbigh Sees No Reason to Fear Another Postponement of Coronation—Will Cruise to Portland and Back Today.

LONDON, July 30.—King Edward's progress continues to be in every way satisfactory. During the day he slowly paced the deck of the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, without assistance, and the exercise is reported to have done him good.

The earl of Denbigh, one of the king's lords in waiting, speaking at a public meeting today said he saw no reason why the king should not be strong enough to undergo the fatigue incident to the the coronation on August 9.

Queen Alexandra, while attending the coronation fetes at Whippingham, Isle of Wight, this evening confirmed reports of his majesty's splendid progress, and said he could now walk across the deck of the royal yacht and that he preferred remaining off Cowes to taking another cruise.

The king has signified his approval of the arrangements for the coronation procession, which provide that their majesties shall travel to and from Westminster Abbey in the great state coach and by the route originally arranged.

Should the weather prove fine enough, it is expected that his majesty will cruise to Portland and back tomorrow.

MANY CUBAN PLANTERS EXPECT ANNEXATION

Speakers at Havana Meeting Say Time Is Not Yet Ripe—Favor Paying Troops.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

HAVANA, July 30.—At a general meeting of the society of Cuban planters today the executive committee of the society proposed a program which was subsequently adopted.

In the first clause the society declares itself to be exclusively an economic body. A member of the executive committee explained that although the society had never been anything else, certain newspapers and people had raised a storm against it on account of the rumors that the society intended to change its plan of action, but that if the planters were enemies of the present Cuban regime they would stop work on their estates and would thus show what they could do.

Other articles of the program support the plan of Emilio Terry, secretary of agriculture, to raise a loan of $4,000,000 to assist Cuban planters and for the establishment of mortgage banks. The program also sets forth that the society considers necessary the payment of the Cuban army.

Perfecto Lacoste, formerly secretary of agriculture and at one time mayor of Havana, was elected president of the new executive committee.

Speakers said that if the economic situation of Cuba became worse and the working people were made to feel the pinch, then would be the time to declare for annexation. Still other speakers said they looked to the United States to do everything in the matter of ultimate annexation.

HAD LIVELY FIGHT IN WATER FOUR FEET DEEP

Two Men Landed Who Have Been Taking Scrap Iron By the Ton.

Harry and John H. Stinkel, who live near the foot of Bayard street, Allegheny, were held in $300 bail each for court yesterday by Justice W. R. Nichols of Esplen. It is alleged that they have stolen over 50 tons of scrap iron.

The scrap has been disappearing for months from the furnace of the American Steel and Wire Company, Neville Island. Yesterday morning the two men were discovered loading a skiff. There was a desperate battle between them and two officers. Part of the time the men were in the river in water four feet deep. All were nearly exhausted when the officers finally subjected the thieves.

During the day the officers visited the home of the Stinkel brothers. They found there about five tons of scrap. At the hearing last night the Stinkels acknowledged taking the scrap. They said it to an Allegheny dealer. They maintained they were not guilty of larceny, as the metal was simply in a pile unguarded on the island.

UNIONTOWN, PA., July 30.—(Special)—A site has been secured near the old Warren glass works for a new factory incorporated by Harry L. Burnham of New Castle, Pa., George E. They will make castings and forging for furnaces and rolling mills and will erect a plant at once that will employ a large number of men.

AMERICA LOSES ONE CONCESSION FROM CUBANS

Island Congress Rents Arsenal Grounds Thought to Be Wanted by U. S.

FEARS OF ANNEXATION

Little Republic Seems To Have No Desire for Being Swallowed in Infancy—Navy Seeks Coaling Station Across Bay.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., July 30.—Cuba and the United States are beginning to work at cross purposes. In the island from which the United States military government was withdrawn 71 days ago is growing up a decided distrust of this country, inspired principally by the failure of the Fifty-seventh congress to redeem the McKinley administration's pledge for the industrial relief of Cuba.

As a result the newly-born Cuban government has already begun to retaliate by forestalling what they considered the United States' intention to establish a naval station at the arsenal grounds in Havana by renting that property. By a series of acts within the past month, Cuba has shown that until the United States makes good its promises it will not willingly grant concessions on the island.

The most overt act which has shown Cuba's tendency to treat the United States cavalierly was the action of the Cuban cabinet yesterday in authorizing the rental of the Havana arsenal grounds, a course said to be inspired by the belief that the United States desired to establish at that point one of the two naval stations to which it is to be entitled in Cuban territory. The fact of the matter is that the United States navy has had no intention of establishing a naval station at the arsenal but is evidently desirous of keeping a hold for that purpose on Triscornia, across the bay from Havana, where there is already a supply of coal, which the Cuban government a week ago requested to be removed. This has not yet been done, a fact which in itself increases the Cuban fear that it is the plan of the United States to establish a naval station under the shadow of Morro Castle.

In the closing hours of congress Senator Elkins introduced and endeavored to force the passage of his Cuban annexation bill. This, too, has infused in the Cuban mind the idea that strong influences in both houses of congress have been insincere in the reciprocity effort, and that those same influences regard it as only a matter of time until the United States will annex the island which it has already launched on a career of nationhood and which is experiencing a precarious infancy.

REWARD FOR MURDERER AND LYNCHERS OFFERED

Gov. White Considers Their Value to State at $200 and $500, Respectively—All Quiet at Elkins.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ELKINS, W. VA., July 30.—Sheriff Marshall today received from Gov. White a proclamation offering $200 for the arrest of Henry Lancaster, Chief Wilmoth's murderer, and $500 for the arrest of any one of the lynchers of Carroll and Clements.

There is considerable censure of the governor's action in offering so much larger reward for the lynchers than for the murderer. Reports of another lynching yesterday are unfounded. All is quiet here.

Lancaster is reported to have been seen at Montrose, 11 miles north, yesterday.

Sale Today of American Wash Goods.

The prices are remarkable—the idea of only 4c a yard for Printed Dimities!

If ever there was a time when women could dress becomingly and not have to pay much for the dress that becomes them so well, that time is the present.

In all our years of selling best American cottons we never knew them to be quoted so low.

4 cents a yard—sold for 20c—3,000 yards Printed Dimities, excellent styles. But it is only fair to women to say the Dimities are all in the one color of heliotrope printed over with white figures.

7½ cents a yard—sold for 12½c and 15c—A great quantity of Batistes and Dimities—neatest of styles and prettiest of colorings.

9 cents a yard—All Dotted Swiss Muslins have been reduced to that price. The printings are beautiful and entirely new.

12½ cents a yard—sold for 25c—some 2,500 yards Embroidered Swisses—perhaps the most popular Summer material now employed.

12½ cents a yard—sold for 25c—3,500 yards Mercerized Ginghams—mercerized so well they look more like wash silks than cotton goods.

Feightley, the Ice Man, Ordered Released from Custody.

POLICE WORK DENOUNCED

Judge Says Police Had No Warrant to Arrest Him for King Murder. Feightley Tells Story of How He Was Abused and "Sweated."

Bert Feightley, the ice man, who was arrested by the Pittsburgh police as the murderer of Achsah King, the woman who had her jugular severed in Curran's saloon on July 23 by some unknown man, is once more a free man.

His release from unwarranted custody was ordered by Judge S. A. McClung, before whom habeas corpus proceedings were heard yesterday morning, and incidentally Judge McClung took occasion to give the police about the warmest, most vigorous scoring any police force ever received. He characterized the unwarranted holding of Feightley as a "monstrous proceeding and a direct violation of the constitution."

The Gazette's Evidence Sustained.

The view of the case taken by Judge McClung fully sustained the evidence The Gazette has all along presented regarding Feightley's unwarranted arrest. The strongest kind of an alibi was secured for him, and it was proven beyond question that he was not near the murdered woman on the day she was murdered. But the police blindly refused to admit anything tending to establish the man's innocence and kept him in such close confinement that he could get no word to his friends. His friends, however, engaged Attorney James Francis Burke and he instituted habeas corpus proceedings after failing to get any satisfaction from the police.

BERT FEIGHTLEY,
The Ice Man, Who Was Unlawfully Detained for Six Days by the Police Authorities for the Murder of Achsah King.

In opening the proceedings yesterday the court stated that the police authorities had erred egregiously in arresting Feightley, when, as a matter of fact, they had no justifiable reason for even suspecting him of the murder. The court said that a gross injustice had been done Feightley. Judge McClung very plainly expressed his disgust and disapproval of the course of the police.

Bold Assumption of Power.

He censured the high-handed method of making arrests on suspicion. He said the police authorities had assumed a power they did not have and that they could not arrest without a warrant unless they had sufficient evidence to make an information. He said they had exceeded their power when they arrested Feightley and then held him for six days in which to gather evidence against him.

It being intimated to Judge McClung that the authorities had secured sufficient evidence on which to hold Feightley he gave them one-half hour in which to make an information. They failed to avail themselves of this opportunity and the man was discharged.

Although the habeas corpus proceedings against Superintendent of Police John McAleese and Sergeant August Metz neither of those officers put in an appearance. Feightley was taken to the court house by Detectives Albert H. Swinehart and George H. Waggoner. Assistant City Attorney A. C. Robertson appeared as the attorney.

How Feightley Was Sweated.

According to the story Feightley told after his release the most terrifying and crushing methods were practiced by Detective Swinehart and other police officials to break Feightley down and connect him with the murder of the King woman. Feightley said he was cross examined and "sweated" until he became weak from the nerve-racking strain he was under.

Detective Swinehart was so determined to place the crime on Feightley that he deliberately removed a white soft hat from Feightley's head and replaced it with his own black one to assist Mrs. Acheson, the sister of the murdered woman, in identifying him as the murderer. Feightley was horrified at this action and almost fell from his chair when Mrs. Acheson said: "That's the man; he wore a black slouch hat."

Superintendent of Police McAleese witnessed this monstrous work. Swinehart had searched Feightley's room at No. 1206 Penn avenue and had been told by Mrs. Norman that Feightley did not own a black hat and had worn a white one for over a year.

Feightley Treated Cruelly.

Feighley after being committed was not allowed to send for his friends or allowed to secure an attorney. He was cast in a cell, and he remained there for six days, while Swinehart and the police hunted to gather evidence on which to have him indicted for murder.

They refused in the face of the alibi obtained by The Gazette to make an investigation of the newspaper findings, which would have shown them their error and warranted the release of the man.

"They had no reason for arresting me," said Feightley. "I have been informed the man who killed the King girl weighed 170 pounds. I only weigh 130. In addition to that I was not near the woman during the day she was murdered, and as a matter of fact I had not seen her in three months. I knew her, for I was raised in McKeesport with her. "Last Friday morning I had just reached the ice plant for another load of ice when Swinehart told me that McAleese wanted to see me. I could not understand what for, but I put on my coat and went to the police station."

"I was asked by Supt. McAleese where I was at 5 o'clock on that Wednesday afternoon, and I was unable to tell him immediately. After thinking a few minutes I said I was at the ice plant cleaning the horses. He asked me if I knew Achsah King, and I told him that I did, but had not seen her in three months. I told them of one occasion when I saw her crossing Wylie avenue near the court house.

Detectives Cursed Him.

"Detective Swinehart asked me if I spoke to her, and I told him I did not, as she was too far from me to call her. He called me a —— liar.

"I could not understand why he was trying to connect me with the murder, and said so. Then McAleese cursed me and ordered me taken to a cell.

"In the afternoon Mrs. Acheson was brought to the station to identify me as the man who was with Achsah King at her house in Penn avenue on the afternoon of the murder. Swinehart took me into McAleese's office and I sat on the chair with my white hat on my knee. I have worn only white hats for several years. I am told the murderer wore a black one.

"Just as Mrs. Acheson was about to enter the room, Swinehart jumped forward and pushed Mrs. Acheson from the room. He snatched my white hat from my knee and placed his black one on my head."

"Mrs. Acheson entered the office and after looking at me for a few minutes said: 'Yes, that is the man; he wore a black hat.'

"I nearly fell off the chair. Then McAleese ordered me taken back to the cell. McAleese watched Swinehart perform this feat to try and have my life sworn away, and that, too, after he had been informed by Mrs. Norman, with whom I room, that I had never worn a black hat; ando he was unable to find one after searching my room for two hours. He did his best to have my life sworn away. At the station house he came to the cell and questioned me.

Swinehart's Persuasive Methods.

"'G—— d—— you, you know who killed that girl,' he would say; 'why don't you tell me? You know you're a liar when you say you have not seen her in three months.' He told me that I was no good and he would get witnesses to prove that I did kill the King woman.

"Several of the detectives came to the cell to see me. They said I was a murderer and they would prove it. They terrified me with threats and charges. 'You are a dirty G—— d—— loafer, and we will land you any way,' they would say. Swinehart actually seemed anxious to have my life. He appeared determined to make a murderer out of me, though he ought to have known that he had no possible warrant for holding me.

"Last Saturday Detective John Roach took me before several women who had seen the man who murdered the King woman, and they all said I was not the man they had seen. I wanted to get a lawyer, but I was informed by Swinehart that I could not have one and I could not send word to my friends."

Police Are Still at Sea.

Yesterday Supt. McAleese admitted that about the only clue the force had to work on in connection with the King murder was the one that had called Detective Roach to Steubenville on Monday, as published in The Gazette of yesterday, and he added that he did not think much of that clue.

Supt. Philip Demmel, of the bureau of detectives, and Keeper Samuel Smith, of the county jail, returned home last night from Mt. Vernon, N. Y., where they went to identify a prisoner under arrest there who was thought to be Silas Carter, the murderer of Policeman John Sheehy. While the prisoner in a way resembles Carter, yet he lacks the height and weight of the colored murderer. The prisoner was known to the Mt. Vernon authorities, which fact, if known here, would have saved the officers the trip.

Add to Silas Carter and the man who killed Achsah King, the woman who poisoned Sullivan H. Palm in a Diamond square hotel, on June 13, and the Pittsburgh police authorities have in less than three months, allowed three murderers to slip away from under their very noses.

COURT ORDERS HALT TO CORNER IN JULY OATS

First Time Such Action Has Been Taken in History of the Board.

DEALERS ARE IN DESPAIR

Claim That They Have No Other Recourse Than to Default—Brokers Who Control the Market Put the Blame on the Other Side.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, July 30.—The ban of the courts has been placed on the corner in July oats. On the application of Waite, Thorburn & Co., one of the firms heavily short in the July option, a temporary restraining order was granted today by Judge Chytraus in the superior court prohibiting James A. Patten and associates from continuing a corner in new July oats, and from bidding up the price of the cereal or calling for further margins.

This is the first time in the history of the Chicago board of trade that dealers who are short have resorted to the courts to assist them in a dilemma like the present, and the injunction came as a decided surprise, although drastic measures had been threatened to prevent heavy losses. The injunction runs against Carrington, Patten & Co., Patten Bros., and Bartlett Frazier Co. Default on 3,000,000 bushels of short new July oats, law suits and action by the board of trade are seemingly the inevitable results of the granting of the restraining order.

Dealers in Despair.

Cornered and unable to secure new July oats wherewith to meet their contracts, the dealers who are short appear to have practically thrown up their hands.

"We have nothing left to do but to default," said one of the unfortunates today. "Those in control of the corner will not sell, but tell us to go into the pit and buy. If we should do that the price would go up into the clouds. A dollar a bushel could easily be exacted, as the receipts of standard new oats will not nearly fill our contracts."

Waite & Thorburn, the firm that requested the injunction, issued the following statement tonight in explanation of the course they have taken:

"For a year or two there has been a regular epidemic of manipulation and attempted corners in the market on the Chicago board of trade, which have inflicted an immense injury on the legitimate grain interests of this city and in the country tributary to Chicago.

Time for Concerted Action.

"These attempts to squeeze the trade have now become so extreme and so unscrupulous that it has become high time for some one to make a fight and find out where the trade stands and whether it is to be for all time for groups of millionaires to turn upside down the grain business of the country and inflict heavy losses on the trade. We have decided to make a test and find out where the trade stands."

Frank P. Frazier of Bartlett, Frazier & Co., was inclined to treat lightly the unprecedented court action. He said:

"There is an erroneous opinion current that Mr. Patten and myself, who each has a fair line of July, have been bidding the market up with the intention of squeezing the shorts. This is not the case at all. The shorts in every instance of high prices have only themselves to blame for putting the price up.

Will Expect Delivery.

"We are simply waiting for the delivery of oats we have contracted for, and we expect their delivery. Recourse to the courts to abrogate a bona fide contract of this kind is unheard of. It is impossible to forecast the effect of the action."

Three million bushels is said to be the shortage in July oats. The greater part of this amount was sold, it is said, to those in control of the market at between 32 and 35 cents so that there is more than 25 cents a bushel profit in the deal for those on the long side.

Instead of the market collapsing as a result of the adoption of a 45-cent marginal price yesterday by the board of trade directors July oats advanced 3 cents today and closed at 63 cents. Indications were that the parties in control of the market had become indignant at the move of their opponents and intended making the bears settle all obligations in the pit.

BALL TEAM HIT BY FREIGHT TRAIN

DRIVER KILLED AND SIX OTHERS SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Accident Happened at a Crossing Where No View of the Track Could Be Had. Engineer Accused of Giving No Warning—Dead Man's Bravery.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 30.—The band wagon which was conveying the Ilion baseball team to Suburban park today was struck at the Broad street crossing in Lestershire by Erie train No. 2, and the driver instantly killed and six others injured, one seriously. Both horses were also instantly killed. The dead and injured are:

CHARLES H. LEWIS, colored driver, Binghamton, skull fractured, instantly killed.

ARTHUR SIGNOR, 7 years old, Binghamton, left leg cut off, three scalp wounds; injuries serious.

L. W. HESS, Nanticoke, Pa., left leg broken, injured internally, bruised about body.

GEORGE HANLEY, Oswego, right fielder Ilion team, back wrenched.

CHARLES MORSE, Auburn, Me., pitcher Ilion team, back and neck wrenched, bruised about body.

The other occupants of the wagon were badly shaken up and bruised.

The view of the track west of the crossing is shut off by the station and a high bluff and the occupants of the wagon claim that the engineer of the train, John De Lancey, failed to blow his whistle or ring the bell. It is claimed by passengers that the train, which was 40 minutes late, was running 70 miles an hour. The band wagon was descending the hill toward the crossing slowly, the brake being on. The players were laughing and joking and the horses were almost on the crossing when a young boy, Harry Wheeler of Lestershire, at great risk jumped on the track and tried to warn them.

The driver, without thought of himself, turned to the others in the wagon and yelled to them to jump. He had plenty of time to save himself, but remained at his post, and when the train struck the horses he was thrown head foremost against a freight car and instantly killed. Catcher Shea of the Ilion team attempted to save the Signor boy on the front seat but was unsuccessful.

Pitcher Hess and his father, who had come here today to see his son play, were on the rear of the wagon when the train struck and were hurled 25 feet, landing on the tracks. The wagon was turned completely around and badly damaged. The horses were dragged 250 feet. The train ran nearly half a mile before it could be stopped.

It will be the first national gathering of this kind ever held and representatives from each denomination will give statistics as to the congregations that have adopted the tithing system.

ANOTHER ORGANIZATION.

American Federation of Labor is After 15,000 Unaffiliated Workmen.

The American Federation of Labor is planning to form an organization of all the laborers of Pittsburgh not already affiliated with some organization. Thomas H. Flynn, general organizer of the Federation, said yesterday that he expects to join 15,000 men in this organization.

Similar organizations exist in Chicago and other cities. The Pittsburgh organization is planned to include street and building laborers of all kinds. It is planned to begin the organization with some affiliation with the building trades, to which any of the men may properly belong.

A meeting will be held at Moorehead hall, Second avenue and Grant street, Sunday afternoon for the purpose of launching the organization. The meeting will be addressed by Patrick Dolan, president of the Pittsburgh district organization of miners; Thomas H. Flynn and Calvin Wyatt, general organizers of the American Federation of Labor, and Michael Raphael, who represents the blue label cigarmakers.

DARK MYSTERY SHROUDS DEATH OF THOMAS HAVEY

The Attending Physician Said That He Died of Pneumonia.

FEARFUL TALE OF BODY

In Obedience to Request From Daughter, It Was Exhumed Yesterday and Showed Marks of Violence. Conflicting Stories of Doctors.

Mystery deep and dark hangs over the death of Thomas Havey of Braddock, and the coroner's office is now engaged in an effort to unravel the mystery and ascertain the exact cause of death. A sworn statement of Mrs. Mary Burke of No. 706 Second avenue, a daughter of the dead man, is responsible for the coroner's activity.

The body was exhumed yesterday by Deputy Coroner James Bender and an autopsy performed by Drs. Charles H. Clifford and George McGarey. His death was stated by the physician who last attended him to be due to pneumonia, while his daughter Mrs. Burke, says it was due to injuries inflicted upon the old man. The daughter's statement is borne out by the fact that the body, when exhumed yesterday, showed unmistakable signs of violence, many and serious bruises and cuts being in evidence.

Thomas Havey and his son James, with the latter's family, lived at No. 436½ Library street, Braddock. On July 20 Thomas Havey died, at the age of 73, after an illness or confinement to his bed of five days. His daughter, Mrs. Burke, went to see him on Thursday, three days before his death.

Is a Strange Case.

She says that Dr. Charles H. Clifford, the first physician to see him, found that his collarbone was broken and he was terribly bruised and battered, and that she saw plainly marks of violence upon his body. He was in too serious a condition to talk to her.

As far as has yet been ascertained, Havey, the old man, was never able to tell how he came by his injuries. Shortly after Dr. Clifford saw him the first time, another physician, Dr. Price, was called in, and it was he who signed the certificate, stating that the old man died of pneumonia.

An interesting point in the story is the fact that last week Mrs. Burke is said to have filed a caveat against the admission to probate of an alleged will of Thomas Havey's presented by James Havey as the last will and testament of his father.

Deputy Coroner Charles Bender, who was present, as the representative of the coroner, when the remains were disinterred, stated yesterday evening that it was evident from marks on the body that Havey had been roughly handled prior to his death.

To the first physician who called at the house, Dr. Clifford, his son James Havey, who lives in the house, stated that the old man had fallen down the stairs and hurt himself.

Another Story.

To the police of Braddock James Havey is alleged to have said that his father was attacked and beaten by a crowd of negroes. Havey said that the attack on his father had been made in an alley near the house, and that he thought a crowd of men, who loafed about Russell's undertaking establishment and stables were responsible. This story of James Havey's was discredited by the police.

The statement of Mrs. Burke is given below, as sworn to before Alderman John A. Martin:

To James M. McGeary, Coroner of Allegheny County:

Statement of Mrs. Mary Burke, residence No. 706 Second avenue, Pittsburgh.

Thomas Havey died July 20, 1902, at his residence, No. 436½ Liberty street, Braddock.

I went to see my father on Thursday evening between 7:30 and 8 o'clock and found him lying in bed. He was very low when I saw him. I went over to the bed and spoke to him; he did not appear to make any motion at first; then they asked him if he knew me. I asked him what happened, and he did not tell me. When I asked him if he knew me he did not look as though he was altogether right; sometimes he would say he knew, and next time he would say he did not see you. He was in great pain.

Collar-Bone Broken.

Q. What was he suffering from?

A. The doctor allowed his collar bone was broken. There were black and blue marks on his throat, as if somebody had choked him. You could see the print of the thumb; on the right side there was a black and blue mark over three inches; the left side was blackened, too, but not so bad as the right. On the top part of his instep there was like a nail driven in, and from that down it was black; even the toes were black underneath and all.

It was supposed he was found on Tuesday morning, July 15; this daughter-in-law, Susan Havey, says she heard him calling; she went into his room. This was at his residence in Braddock, at No. 436½ Liberty street. Mrs. Havey said at 3 o'clock on Tuesday morning he had called her and she went in and gave him a drink of water; then she said she did not hear anything of him until he called her about 4:45. He was lying, she says, between the two doors, the kitchen and the room.

Q. How far from any step?

Tale of Assault.

A. It was not very far away from the steps, but if he was lying between the two places he would not have fallen against the door. Then his son, my brother, James Havey, said he got beaten in a stable in the alley, in Mr. Russell's stable. He did not say who did it. There was always a crowd of toughs in this stable.

Q. What doctor attended him first?

A. Dr. Clifford, who lives on the opposite side of the street. Then Dr. Price was called in on Friday, after Dr. Clifford had been there again, and Dr. Price gave a certificate that he died of penumonia and that his collar bone was not broken.

Dr. Clifford, who examined him first, said his collar bone was broken.

Dr. Clifford told M. F. Finan, who lives at the same place as Mrs. Burke, that a child could tell that the collar bone was broken; all you had to do was to raise it up and it protruded and was like a seesaw.

I had no conversation with my father because I was not there at the time; they came after me; it was along about 8 o'clock I saw him. He was then in an unconscious condition, and he died on the following Sunday.

I believe that my father came to his death by violence unknown to me, and ask you as coroner of Allegheny county to investigate the cause of death.

MRS. MARY BURKE.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 25th day of July, 1902.

Hair - Vain?

Why not? A little vanity is a good thing. Perhaps you can't be hair-vain, your hair is so thin, so short, so gray. Then use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It stops falling of the hair, makes the hair grow, and always restores color to gray hair.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for over 40 years. I am now in my 91st year and have an abundance of soft brown hair, which I attribute to the use of your preparation."—Mrs. Mary A. Keith, Belleville, Ill.

DE NOON'S HAD SOME INSURANCE CUT OFF IN JUNE

Regulations of Board of Fire Underwriters Were Being Violated.

M'GILL TO INVESTIGATE

Fire Marshall Talks of Some Things Fire Underwriters Have to Contend With — Building Inspector Says More Laws Are Needed.

A big block of insurance on the stock of the De Noon Bros.' Paint and Glass Company, No. 219 Liberty street, was canceled on June 1 by the agent who placed it, because of the condition of the building. The agent did this after visiting the building and making a personal inspection. It was in this building that the big fire of Tuesday morning, which the firemen were forced to fight for 12 long hours, had its start.

Fire Marshal W. D. McGill said yesterday that a careful and thorough investigation would be made as to the origin of the fire.

An insurance agent who was in the building a few weeks ago, in speaking of the conditions as he found them, said that the floors were littered with packing straw, especially on the upper floors, where there was much packing hay, together with light boxes, while in the basement large stocks of oils and varnishes were carried. Goods were also found piled on the stairways.

Conditions in Violation of Rules.

Fire Marshal McGill says that such conditions as these were in violation of the rules of the board of underwriters, of which he is secretary. He said the rule was that there must be at least three feet clear space on all stairs. Mr. McGill said this was one of the commonest violations insurance inspectors have to contend with, some people appearing to think that stairways are for the display of goods.

An examination of the shutters on the rear of the King building, occupied by the De Noon Bros. Company and Stewart Bros. & Co., shows that they are fitted with latches that can be opened from the outside, and if the firemen had trouble with them it was because they could not find the latches. The latches are not those approved by the board of underwriters.

Fire Marshal McGill was ready and willing to talk fire shutters. He said: "The board of underwriters has given the fire shutter much consideration and has adopted as the standard for Pittsburgh the shutter and latch approved by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. The shutter is made on improved lines, and the covering has to be put on in a certain manner. A tin-clad wooden shutter has been found to withstand the heat of fire, within or without, better than an iron shutter, but the tin has to be put on in a certain way so that it will not warp and twist.

Shutter Question Is Important

"It is almost impossible," said Mr. McGill, "to get shutters made and hung as we want them. We not only say how the shutter shall be made and hung, but we say that at least every third shutter must open from the outside. We do not say that a certain latch shall be used, but we advocate one adopted by the board of underwriters as the standard. It is very simple, costs but little to make, and can be opened with a hook of any kind, or even by a piece of rope.

"If insurers do not see fit to comply with our rules and regulations in regard to shutters and outside latches they must pay 10 per cent more insurance on the property. There is no law to compel a man to protect his property on the rear or sides, and there is no law to compel him to have any particular latch on the shutters he places at his windows."

"No," said Building Inspector J. A. A. Brown, "there is no shutter law, but there should be. We should have many building laws that we have not got."

An examination of the ruins yesterday shows that there is going to be a very large salvage. In De Noon's it will go above 30 per cent of their stock. The salvage in Stewart Bros. will be about 20 per cent. This and overestimations will cut down the loss fully $50,000, making it about $185,000. There was a meeting of insurance adjusters yesterday at the rooms of the board of underwriters, and there will be another today, when Fire Marshal McGill will commence his investigation.

Exploding Gas Machine Causes Death in Torture; Bessemer Employe Charged With an Old Murder

DEATH CAUSED BY INVENTION

New Gas Machine at Latrobe Explodes With Fatal Results.

VICTIM WAS WELL KNOWN

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LATROBE, PA., July 30.—A peculiar accident happened here today about 11 o'clock which cost the life of one man and seriously injured another.

William Head, Jr., a prominent citizen, was exhibiting a new apparatus for manufacturing gas and had invited Joseph Schwitter, a wealthy hotel man, to witness the exhibition. Mr. Head was just about getting the machine in operation when the gas became ignited from a red-hot pipe, three feet long, which connected the generator with the meter. The flames shot out, enveloping Mr. Schwitter, and his clothing immediately caught fire. Rugs and pieces of carpet were thrown on him, but before the fire was extinguished he had fallen to the floor writhing in pain. He was removed to his home, where he died this evening at 7:45. Mr. Head was also badly burned.

Mr. Schwitter was proprietor of the Miller hotel and was a prominent and wealthy resident of Latrobe. He deserved great credit for the manner in which he had worked his way up in the world. He was born in Switzerland 37 years ago and first resided in Allegheny, but had been a resident of Latrobe for the past 13 years. A wife and seven children and Mrs. Elizabeth Schwitter, his aged mother, of Allegheny, survive him.

UNKNOWN MAN WAS KILLED BY TRAIN

Mutilated Body Was Found by Train Crew—Dead Man Well Dressed.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 30.—The terrible mutilated body of an unknown man was discovered at 7 o'clock this morning a short distance this side of Moravia along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, by the crew of a freight train. The trainmen were afraid to touch the body before the coroner arrived. Coroner Porter was notified some time later, but could not reach the scene until after noon.

There was nothing upon the dead man's clothing to furnish any clue to his identity. He was 5 feet 8 inches in height, weighed 175 pounds, and appeared to be about 34 years of age. He wore gray corduroy trousers, grayish black flannel coat, polka-dot shirt and light cap.

It was at first rumored that he had been murdered, but this theory seems impossible, as his gold watch and chain, with an unusually handsome charm, were found on the body. It is supposed the man was walking along the track when he was run down in the night, but he was a stranger in this locality.

LATROBE, PA., July 30.—(Special.)—Frank Felbo, aged 27 years, was instantly killed while walking on the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad near Ryan curve today. He stepped out of the way of a westbound train and directly in front of No. 8, eastbound. The train was running rapidly and Felbo was hurled a distance of 50 feet.

Lightning Hit Coal Mine.

WILKESBARRE, PA., July 30.—During the prevalence of a severe electrical storm a lightning bolt struck No. 11 shaft of the Erie Coal Company at Pittston, and passing on through the workings, caused an explosion of gas. Part of the interior workings of the mine were wrecked. Had the colliery been in operation some lives would have undoubtedly been lost.

ARRESTED FOR GRAVE CRIME

DEED DONE NEAR BATAVIA

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENVILLE, PA., July 30.—William H. Conlber was arrested at Meadville today charged with having murdered Horace Halpin at Batavia, N. Y., September 14, 1899. Conlber was recognized by Thomas Sherry, the proprietor of a traveling show, whose home is in Batavia. He informed the police and Conlber was arrested at the Kepler hotel, where he had registered under the name of J. McCoy. The sheriff of Orleans county is on his way here and will take Conlber back with him, for whose arrest $500 reward is offered.

Conlber has been working for the Bessemer railroad here several months. Yesterday he drew his pay and went to Meadville. Halpin, the man whom he is charged with having murdered, was a huckster. Conlber was seen riding with him toward Batavia a few minutes before he was found shot through the heart. The murder was committed to secure possession of $15.

NO CANDIDATE.

Neither Acheson Nor Cunningham Can Go on Beaver County Ticket.

BEAVER, PA., July 30.—(Special.)—The executive committee of the Beaver county Republican committee has approved Chairman H. P. Brown's action in declining to appoint a return judge of the vote cast for candidates for congress on May 15, as he was asked to do by mandamus proceedings recently. This leaves the question of who will be Republican candidate for congress in the Twenty-fourth district just as it was before the primary elections were held in Lawrence, Beaver and Washington counties, as the name of neither J. H. Cunningham of Beaver county nor E. F. Acheson of Washington county can be placed on the ballot for the November election.

Steinert paid, and received a letter addressed to the manager of the company in Second avenue, Pittsburgh. Steiner was in the city yesterday looking after his job. The lady whom he saw at the Second avenue address given on the letter, told him that the Union News Company did not do business there.

Spoke to Them Gently—The Pittsburgh police have been notified of an attempted robbery of the home of J. J. McGee over his saloon at the corner of Thirty-fourth and Charlotte streets early yesterday morning. The creaking of the roof of an addition to the house awakened Mr. McGee, who went to the window and, through the slats of the blind, saw two men on the roof. In order not to frighten his wife, who was asleep, he did not shoot, but opened the window and spoke to the men, who fled, jumping to the ground from the roof of the shed 12 feet above.

AGAIN IN DISTRESS

People in the Chartiers Valley Suffered Another Day for Want of Water.

The residents of the Chartiers valley were again suffering yesterday at the hands of the Chartiers Water Company. When they awoke yesterday morning there was no water, and it was not turned on until late in the evening.

The women of the town are complaining of being unable to do the family washing or to secure water for cooking. Some of the more fortunate few residing near a well use well water for all purposes. One of the liverymen said yesterday that he was barely able to get water enough for his horses.

PENNED IN BY FLOOD.

Thrilling Experience of Miners During Monday's Storm.

The miners employed in the Risher mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company at Dravosburg had a thrilling experience and narrow escape from death in the mine during the big rain and thunderstorm, which caused much damage on Monday in this section.

About 25 men were at work in the mine during the day and just when the storm was at its height the men started on their way to the entrance to go home. After going but a short distance the leaders suddenly found their way obstructed by water and not knowing that a heavy storm was in progress above ground they ran back to the higher parts of the mine.

The water continued to come up and as all exit was cut off the men became terror-stricken, as they were by that time standing ankle-deep in water. While they waited with bated breath the water began to recede, and they were finally able to make their way out of the mine. The flooding of the mine, it was afterward discovered, was caused by the overflow from Buttermilk run coming into the mine through crevices in the roof.

COAL LANDS IN DEMAND.

Excitement in Indiana County on Reports of Railroad Extension.

INDIANA, PA., July 30.—(Special.)—This county is greatly excited because of the activity of agents of the New York Central railroad. The road has been extended to Arcadia, whence by easy grades down Dixon's row, Twolick and Blacklick creeks it has free board to the Conemaugh river. Reports say that agents of the New York Central are taking rights of way in the northern part of Westmoreland county in a field, the coal of which was recently optioned by men from this town.

Two diamond drills are putting down test holes near Tanoma, a field adjoining that which the Bigler interests will buy this week. A dozen men are traveling the county, some of them taking up land on a venture. The excitement is great and men of affairs are abandoning their regular vocations to join in the wild scramble for coal lands. Work on the extension of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad goes right along, and the men back of that road are quietly buying up the best of the coal in the territory through which the road passes. The Hon. A. V. Barker of Ebensburg has during the week bought a large block of coal in Brush Valley and East Wheatfield townships.

New Traction Line in Sight.

A line will be built from Sharon to West Middlesex this year. The incorporators are M. A. Norris, Alfred N. Perkins and R. Montgomery of this city; A. W. Williams and William McIntyre, Jr., of Sharon. The line will be part of the Panhale-Devitt syndicate.

The deed is executed by E. Waterman Dwight of Philadelphia, for himself, and as trustee of the Montalto Iron Company. Eighty-one tracts are included in the purchase, situated in Franklin and Adams counties.

MOTORMAN HAD A FIT ON HIS CAR

PASSENGERS ON A CARNEGIE CAR WERE TERRIFIED.

Motorman Frank Thurlow, While Taking Car Down a Steep Grade, Seized With an Epileptic Fit and Lost Control—Quick-Minded Passenger.

Before the terrified gaze of about 50 passengers, Frank Thurlow, a motorman on a Carnegie car—No. 82—of the West End division of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, was last evening attacked by an epileptic fit, while running his car.

Thurlow is a sub-motorman, and had taken the car in charge after leaving the Carnegie barns for Pittsburgh. The passengers noticed that he acted queerly while ascending the Crafton bridge grade. Instead of stopping at the far side of the bridge he stopped at the near side. He started the car again and did not stop at the regular place, opposite the entrance to Oakwood park.

The car was now on a down grade, when suddenly Thurlow threw up both hands, his face twitching in terrible convulsions. One passenger on the front seat seized the unfortunate man while another, with rare presence of mind, caught hold of the controller and put on the brake. The car was stopped before it had gone over 100 yards.

Thurlow was laid on the floor and a physician called. He was later taken to his home in Carnegie. The affair occurred when many workmen were returning home.

ANOTHER WOMAN NOW CLAIMS THE $5,000 DOG

Somewhat Famous Case Justice Creelman Is to Hear Today Further Complicated Yesterday.

The celebrated $5,000 St. Bernard dog case, in which prominent East End people figure, will be heard by Justice Creelman in Wilkinsburg this afternoon. Yesterday the justice issued a subpoena for L. Karcher of No. 638 Peebles street, who was arrested last Thursday charged with the theft of the dog, commanding him to produce the animal at the hearing today.

Karcher does not seem to be much alarmed over the outcome of the suit. A large number of his neighbors will be present to testify that he is the rightful owner of the animal. On the other hand, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wendler of Brushton avenue and Tioga streets, Pittsburgh, who are suing for the dog, and who are positive in their identification of the animal found in Karcher's possession, will have 17 witnesses present to substantiate their claim.

The hearing will attract a large crowd, and in anticipation of this Justice Creelman has arranged to hold court on the lawn in the rear of his office.

There was another interesting development in the case yesterday, when another claimant for the dog put in an appearance at Justice Creelman's office, in the person of Mrs. George H. Gledhill of No. 3483 Madison avenue, Pittsburgh, who had just arrived in the city from Salem, O., her summer home. She read the description of the animal in the Pittsburgh papers and is satisfied that the dog is the valuable St. Bernard that was stolen from her last February.

The case was already an extremely complicated one, and this development will only tend to add to the interest in the hearing this afternoon.

New Fuse for Explosive Shells.

NEW YORK, July 30.—A new time fuse, for use on armor-piercing shells, loaded with a recently-discovered secret explosive of great power, has been invented by war department ordnance experts and will probably revolutionize foreign warship building. Gen. Crozier, chief of ordnance, is quoted as saying that the shell carries its contents through the thickest armor, and that the fuse lives long enough to explode in the interior of the ship of war.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

Sound Republican Doctrine.

There is the right kind of ring to the utterances of Iowa Republicans, in convention assembled yesterday. The resolutions emphatically commend the attitude of President Roosevelt toward reciprocity with Cuba; toward the harmful tendencies of some of the trusts and toward the financial and tariff policies that have given the Republican party its strong hold upon the thinking people of this most prosperous and progressive of nations.

Additional significance is given the Iowa platform by the attendance at the convention of the two United States senators from that state, Speaker Henderson and all except one of the state's representatives in congress. Those gentlemen cannot fail to understand the temper and sentiments of their constituents upon any of the leading issues of the time.

Iowa stands peculiarly representative of the great middle west, the region in which agriculture dominates, closely followed by manufacturing industry. It has no direct interest in the mining west, or the importing east, but occupies a plane between and above the two, capable of sympathy with either, but not prejudiced by the selfish views of one or the other. For this reason it is most gratifying to find Iowa standing so firmly for time-honored Republican principles, so warmly commending President Roosevelt and Attorney General Knox for the things accomplished, as well as expressing utmost confidence in their purpose and ability to do more. There is not a suggestion of comfort in the Iowa convention for the sugar conspiracy against Cuba, or the evil trusts that aim to enrich themselves by monopolistic extortion instead of by legitimate enterprise or economy. It was soundly Republican throughout.

Marlborough's Assignment.

Australia is perhaps the most aggressively self-dependent of the great self-governing colonies of the British empire. Other self-governing colonies have for their constitutions acts of the British parliament, but Australia has a constitution of its own devising, to which Britain merely gave assent. The Australians more than even the Canadians are insistent on respect being shown by the imperial authorities for their virtual independence, and less tolerant of anything that has even the appearance of an attempt at imperial restraint. This is perhaps due to the insular position of the great colony. Canada, bordering the United States, has boundary questions and other international problems, and in contact and, in a sense, in conflict with a greater power, leans more on imperial protection, and therefore is more in harmony with imperial policies. Where Canada is ready to be governed by good advice, Australia is more determined to travel its own course.

It is interesting in view of this to learn that the duke of Marlborough has been selected to be governor general of Australia, succeeding the earl of Hopetoun. Marlborough is a young man and untried. His principal claims to fame are his good taste in the selection of a wife and his fortunate choice of a distinguished ancestry. With these he has the rank inherited by his forbears and a plentiful supply of funds with which to support the dignity of vice-king in the island continent below the equator. To these he must add tact, if his reign over the Australian democracy is to give luster to his name. A statesman he need not be. The Australians do not want a statesman for governor general. They have statesmen of their own—a surplus of them, in fact—and ask only that the uncrowned king reign without attempting to govern. Indeed, they demand that he make no attempt to govern, but content himself with being the social center of Australian life. The duke of Marlborough ought to be equal to this. If he is he will be a success. If he attempts more he will probably fail. On his consort much will depend, for after all it is the vicereine who will give the viceregal court its tone and finish that will make or mar the viceregal reign. Therefore, as the success of Marlborough will be the success of his duchess, and vice versa, Americans will be glad if he fills the place with honor. It is a matter in which they will feel pride that the vicereine of India, the greatest British dependency, and the prospective vicereine of Australia, are American girls. Americans in petticoats are as fully equal to the demands of the duties of high position as are Americans in trousers, and we have no doubt that the successes of Curzon and Marlborough are due in no small part to the good sense and ability of their wives.

Freight Congestion Again.

There is fresh complaint of freight congestion in the Pittsburgh district. With increased facilities the railroads were barely able to meet demands during the late spring and first summer months. Now, as the season approaches for stocking the northwest with winter fuel and putting ore in for the Pittsburgh furnaces, the old trouble recurs. There is no car famine this time; the per diem system has cured that. The whole difficulty is insufficient terminals, motive power and trackage.

Last spring when The Gazette made an exhaustive inquiry into the losses of the Pittsburgh district through inability of the railroads to handle the traffic it pointed out precisely this recurrence of the trouble at the beginning of the lake season. The congestion will naturally increase during August and September, for then the exchange between Pittsburgh and the lake shore will be at its height. As the anthracite mines are not working the northwest and lake cities must depend more largely upon the Pittsburgh region for fuel supply than last year, and the Pittsburgh demand for ore this year exceeds all previous records by many thousands of tons.

In considering this matter there is plenty of material for the correction of the false impression held out by eastern journalists that Pittsburgh owes its existence to the railroads, or is favored by them. It may easily be seen that Pittsburgh is only struggling to get what fairly belongs to it. As a fuel producer the railroads depend upon it to give them traffic for the west and northwest, and because it has fuel to burn they are favored with return cargoes of ore. The railroads have not yet done full justice to Pittsburgh, but it is only fair to accredit them with honest efforts in that direction during this year, particularly, and last year to a less extent.

The Private Fee.

In another column of this paper a correspondent appeals for relief from the "tip" nuisance. He can find that relief in one way only—that is by refusing to give tips to anyone. If he, or any other man, does not approve of tipping, there is no law that will compel him to give a gratuity. On the other hand, if anyone desires to recognize good service with an additional fee, there is no law to prevent him from giving it. No doubt the "tip," which is a foreign institution, is growing more common in this country. The way to check it is for each individual to stand upon his rights and ignore the waiting hand.

Regulars and Militia.

There will be no participation by state troops in the extensive army maneuvers of this year at Fort Riley, Kansas. The war department extended an invitation to all the states to send troops, but, unfortunately, it found all unprovided by their legislatures with funds to enable them to accept. Pennsylvania was invited with the rest, and is in the same boat with them, but will send officers of the guard to view the regular troops in camp and on the field. Though the participation of one or two regiments would be of undoubted benefit, the experience gained by the officers who will represent our state guard will be useful to it, and their presence and subsequent influence may lead the legislature to take steps to have the guard represented by a body of troops at future army maneuvers.

The closer union of the National guards of the states with the national military establishment is desirable for purposes of preparedness for national defense, and such union may be furthered by the meeting and fraternizing of regulars and militia in camps of instruction and in the drill and discipline of large bodies of each in unison under the direction of the trained commanders of the regular army.

Crop Conditions Continue Favorable.

It is surprising to learn from the weather bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions that drought of considerable severity prevails from Virginia and the Carolinas westward over Kentucky and Tennessee, and extends to the southern portion of Illinois and Indiana. Moreover, the late spring wheat in South Dakota could use more rain to advantage. Residents of Western Pennsylvania had formed the idea that the output of rain was large all over the country, because the reports of floods seemed to come from all quarters. This is a big country, however, and some parts of it may be parched while others are waterlogged. The wet district has extended from New England across Pennsylvania and Ohio, into Northern Illinois and beyond. The Mississippi valley has suffered from floods and so has the Missouri valley and large portions of Texas.

In spite of unsatisfactory weather conditions here and there, which are always to be expected, on the whole the week's weather was exceptionally favorable over the greater part of the principal corn area. The condition of spring wheat is pronounced to be promising by Uncle Sam's observers, and the chances are good for a large yield of oats, notwithstanding earlier unfavorable weather. The prospect of seed for the sower and bread for the eater has been uninjured by the weather of July.

Senator Platt's Conclusions.

Senator Thomas C. Platt of New York has long been regarded as a clever politician. That is, his ability to read aright the signs of the times has been widely recognized. He will lose nothing of his reputation by his declaration, after his visit to Saga-more hill yesterday, that New York will send a solid delegation to the national Republican convention for renomination of President Roosevelt. Senator Platt has been feeling the public pulse, so to speak, and he knows the people of New York approve the president's thoroughly Republican doctrines. There is no comfort even in the citadel of the stock jobbers for the sugar conspiracy or the political jugglers who set at naught the principle of majority rule. Senator Platt has made no mistake in his estimate.

The Opportunity of the Boers.

Mr. Chamberlain yesterday gave the commons, and through the commons the Boers, the fullest guarantee on the part of the British ministry of ultimate self-government for all British South Africa. It was in reply to a question asked by the leader of the opposition. From their present position of a crown colony the late Boer states are to move progressively to full constitutional control of their own affairs, with their own schools and their own language in full equality with the English tongue. It is thus the province of Quebec, in the Dominion of Canada, speaks its own language and is governed by its own people, and not that alone, for it also gives to Canada the real head of the whole Canadian government, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, a French Canadian, who is now in London participating in what is called the colonial, but would be more aptly termed the imperial, conference. The future of the Boers, it is therefore apparent, is in their own hands, and it is placed in their power to progress to a peaceful conquest of all South Africa.

This Should Cheapen Meats.

Chicago papers speak gleefully of an invention by an investigative resident of this city, which is destined to reduce by one-half the cost of fattening cattle, and which should, by a simple process of reasoning, reduce the price of beefsteaks and roasts in the same proportion. The invention consists of an artificial method of sprouting corn with great rapidity and providing cattle with the succulent shoots as a regular article of diet. By the inventor's process the grain doubles in weight and becomes soft and nourishing. After cattle have eaten this prepared breakfast, dinner and supper food once or twice they will eat nothing else so long as they can get the sprouted shoots. It makes them contented and jolly, and they naturally grow fat. It is said that in the ordinary feeding of corn to stock not more than half the grain is assimilated, but by the new method every particle is made tender and digestible, and is transformed into first-class beef, with the fat distributed throughout the lean in the ideal way, instead of being lumped together in nature's careless style.

If this new discovery turns out to be as valuable as the Chicago papers seem to think, it will have the effect of reducing the price of beef, unless the packers decide that they need the additional profits that the new method of feeding will bring.

There are enough pathetic features about Engineer John Kimmerling's last run to set one thinking. He met death in almost the same manner as his former mate and that when he purposed so soon to retire from the throttle.

President Roosevelt and Senator Platt conferred yesterday, and it is safe to say they did not restrict their conference to an interchange of opinions about the wet weather we've been having.

Possibly Messrs. Schurz, Adams, Storey, Smith and Welsh neglected to send a copy of their celebrated open letter to Oyster Bay with a special delivery stamp on the envelope.

Hoodlums in New York Change Mourners at Funeral Into Angry Mob.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, July 30.

How little it takes to change an orderly gathering of peaceable men and women into a wildly riotous mob was exemplified in a costly manner on the East Side this morning. It was at the funeral of Rabbi Jacob Joseph. This man, who was recognized as the head of orthodox Judaism in America, naturally was held in extreme veneration by the multitudes in New York's "Ghetto." The sweatshop workers, peddlers, small storekeepers and artisans and merchants generally of the quarter felt themselves honored in being allowed to follow the hearse that bore his remains. As the procession started from the old house on the lower East Side which had been the residence of the rabbi the thousands of persons gathered in the streets showed in their sad faces that there was nothing of strife or violence in their minds. The hearse moved slowly away and the army of mourners followed. Suddenly, as the cortege passed a large factory, some impatient workmen within threw water and stones upon the heads of the passers-by. On the instant the men below, many of them wearing the long beards proclaiming Jewish orthodoxy, stormed the building and were in a free fight with the workmen on the lower floor. Savage blows with weapons of any kind were struck, and at the same time stones were hurled through the plate glass windows. The police who had been sent to keep order in the procession and to watch for pickpockets were unable to stop the fighting and reserves from several police stations were called out. There was a fierce battle, ending with a number of the participants being sent to hospitals in ambulances and $1,200 worth of plate glass broken. It is not often that the Jews of the tenement districts resent with such fierceness the insults of the hoodlum element. But the occasion today happened to be one which involved the deepest and most sacred sentiments of the Hebrew race, and an explosion was inevitable.

Expect Some Fine Tennis.

Invitations are out for the international lawn tennis tournament at Bay Ridge, under the auspices of the Crescent Athletic club of Brooklyn, on August 6, 7 and 8. Members of the United States National Lawn Tenais association will participate, and it is expected that the playing will be the finest ever seen in Greater New York.

Devery's Picnic a Joy Forever.

Devery's picnic today was a howling success. The "Big Chief" estimated the crowd of women and children, with a sprinkling of men, which enjoyed itself on the six boats included in the excursion flotilla, at 25,000. There were probably not fewer than 20,000. That is a good many people to be taken out for a day, fed and amused, all at one man's expense. The "Chief" had promised that his excursion should be a big thing, and it was. He had an opera company and a dozen vaudeville performers to amuse his guests, to say nothing of several healthy bands of music for the benefit of the dancers on each of the steamboats and excursion barges. Some idea of the magnitude of the preparations may be gathered when it is told that at one time 15 tons additional of ice were brought to the pier to be loaded on the boats. There was a tremendous supply of ice on board already, but a little matter of 15 tons more was needed, in the opinion of Mr. Devery, and on it went. The general opinion is that W. S. Devery will gain his ambition to be leader of the Ninth assembly district with little trouble and that if he really desires to be Richard Croker's successor as head of Tammany hall he can gain that exalted position, too. Devery joins in this opinion, it is said.

Politics Not Bothering President.

"President Roosevelt is not bothering about politics," said Senator Platt this afternoon. The senator spent today with the president at Oyster Bay. Nothing but a social call, according to the best authorities at hand.

Wood Seems on Back Number List.

Wood is used less and less in public buildings. This is brought forcibly to the attention of New Yorkers by an immense sign hanging outside of the new Majestic theater in the "Circle," at Fifty-ninth street, Broadway and Eighth avenue. The sign announces that the new building is the Majestic theater, and continues: "All that money, marble, steel and iron can do to make it fireproof will be expended on this edifice." The house is nearly finished, and there is so little wood in it that the promise of the sign that it shall be fireproof may well be accepted.

The Ever-Present Pittsburgher.

It is easier to bump into Pittsburghers than to avoid them in New York. There are so many of them here that one may take any group of men of, say 20 or 25 in a hotel or business place, with the certainty of finding a Pittsburgher or two among them. Crossing the North river today I exchanged some ordinary remark with a fellow-passenger on the ferry whose thoughtful face and direct manner of speech bespoke the man of affairs. Glancing at the skyscrapers which make a ragged sky-line in lower New York, he said, casually: "I come from the city where they make those things." "Steel, eh?" I asked. He nodded. "Then you are a Pittsburgher, of course," I said. He was, and has been connected with the Carnegie mills for many years. I did not ask his name, but, as he told me he was a regular reader of The Gazette, perhaps he will supply it to the editor, so as to make this paragraph complete.

Church Leaders to Be Present.

A number of well-known New Yorkers, including the Rev. Dr. Rainsford and Bishop Potter, will attend the approaching conference of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in Boston. The president of the Brotherhood is H. D. W. English of Pittsburgh. It is expected that the convention, which will be called to order by Mr. English on October 9 and will remain in session until the evening of the 12th, will be the largest in the history of the Brotherhood.

Another Ice Man in Trouble.

The manager of an ice company was today held in $200 bail for trial at court, charged with burning soft coal. He said he could not procure anthracite for his furnace, but a representative of the health department insisted that he could if he tried. Arrests of men for violating the smoke ordinance in New York are regarded as farcical by most people. The city is overhung by a pall of black smoke in some parts where there are factories, and near the rivers where the tugs burn soft coal at their pleasure. The principal offenders are not touched. It is only the unlucky fellow who happens to come into the personal notice of an inspector who is hauled before a magistrate, and after he has paid his fine he goes out and repeats the offense. He must do so, or shut up shop. Anthracite is practically unobtainable in New York, even at the high price it commands at present, nearly double what it was six months ago.

Mayor Anxious About Improvements.

Every care will be taken not to spoil New York city hall in the name of so-called "improvements." Mayor Low today sent a letter to John De Witt Warner, president of the municipal art commission, in which, after telling him that certain changes were in contemplation affecting the internal arrangements of city hall at various points, he said that the building was so fine a specimen of architecture that he was anxious no change should be made in it except such as had been well considered, and were believed by the municipal art commission to be proper. It is commonly understood that city hall is the handsomest building in New York from an architectural point of view, and there is general commendation of Mayor Low's caution in changing it in any way.

"By Any Other Name," etc.

When a gentleman in New York drinks more than is good for him, his friends who are up to date do not say that he is "on a jag," as used to be the expression in polite society. They remark gently that he is "on a cantico." It is understood that "cantico" is not a new word just created for the enrichment of an already opulent language, but is an old term revived. It can be heard very generally uptown of an evening.

Passersby Take Big Chances.

The putting up of towering office buildings is attended by many dangers to passers-by as well as to workmen on the structures. The "flatiron" skyscraper at the junction of Fifth avenue and Broadway at Twenty-third street is noticed by everyone visiting this city as the most remarkable appearing edifice of the present generation. Nearly 30 stories high, the workmen on the upper floors, crawling about the window ledges and in other perilous positions, look like flies. Occasionally they drop something, and then it behooves one to stand from under—if he can. Edwin H. Low, a steamship ticket agent well known to a very large number of Pittsburghers, was today struck on the shoulder by a leaden clamp rivet that had fallen 21 stories. It hit him a slanting blow, fortunately, or it would most likely have broken some bones. Had it struck his head it would have killed him. A large portion of the sidewalk around the building is closed now, and people take a few extra chances of being run down by cabs or street cars to save themselves from coming under a shower of rivets, or mayhap a hammer or two from 200 feet above them.

"Isles of Safety" Are Assured.

The dangers of New York street crossings have been discussed so much that the municipal authorities have been stirred to action. "Isles of safety" are to be constructed at three of the deadliest crossings along Broadway—at Union square, Madison square and Herald square. "Dead man's curve" at Union square used to be a regular slaughter house when the cable cars whipped around the corner of Broadway and Fourteenth street at full speed. The speed of the cars was reduced, and down went the death rate. Still, the crossing there is a menace to anyone not inured to metropolitan rushing methods, and it is well that a place where one can get out of the way in the trip from one sidewalk to another is to be brought into existence. The Fourteenth street "isle" is to be completed first, but there will be little delay with the other two, according to promises from city hall. Any Pittsburgher that ever has had to cross Broadway, either at Thirty-fourth or Twenty-third streets, can testify that some improvement is needed at those points for the safety of human life and limb.

Paterson Rising from Her Ruins.

Paterson, N. J., which was burned out and flooded out last winter, is striving bravely to retrieve itself. It is estimated that more than $2,000,000 worth of building contracts have been awarded since May 1, and that buildings to cost that much are under course of construction. Every week this amount is increased, and last week alone $60,000 worth of building contracts were recorded at the county clerk's office. The work of rebuilding is delayed, however, owing to the difficulty in securing structural steel and iron.

Danger Lurks in Window Seat.

It may be that the window seat on railroad trains will not be so popular with commuters to New York as it has been, for there was a narrow escape from death of a passenger on the Lackawanna yesterday afternoon. The 4:10 train from this city for South Orange was just entering Roseville station when the passengers on the last car heard a tremendous bang and crashing of glass. When the train was stopped it was found that a beam projecting from part of the new construction on the north side of the new track had crashed through a window of the car, smashing it to atoms and covering with glass the passenger occupying the seat next the window. The passenger was Ernest Wenzel of Newark, and the beam just missed taking his head off. He was badly frightened, but unhurt. Any Pittsburgher whose recollection goes back 15 years or so, will remember the tragic death of Dale Graham, son of the late Senator J. L. Graham, who was killed by a side-swipe on the Pennsylvania railroad, near the Horseshoe Curve. Dale was an exceedingly bright young Pittsburgher with hundreds of friends, and his death was a great shock to the community. He was sitting at the window in a Pullman car. His companion by his side was uninjured. So much for the "window seat."

Pittsburgh Makes New Record.

Pittsburgh is keeping up its name in New York harbor in more ways than one. The Pennsylvania railroad double-decked ferryboat "Pittsburgh," which plies between Twenty-third street in New York and the depot in Jersey City, has just been fitted with new propellers. She made her first trip today with the new "fins," and covered the distance between Twenty-third street and the Jersey City depot in seven minutes. Her regular running time had been 22 minutes. She plowed up the river like a streak, and all the old tars along the river front, besides a lot of people that were not tars, gasped in astonishment. The "Pittsburgh" is, by long odds, the fastest craft in New York harbor. There is not a tug or ferryboat or large steamboat that can come near her. She makes them all take her dust, figuratively speaking.

The Rudeness of Sailors.

From the London Globe.

"The bow of a ship," says a humorous handbook of nautical terms, "is not evidence of politeness." It reminds us of a line in "Flotsam from the Isis:"

And the hands went up to the nose of the boat,
displaying a lack of good taste,
And first began to pull at her stays, and then to scrub at her waist.

This, it may be remembered, occurred off the Isle of Rudness, where—

A spit ran down to the bay,
And a tongue of land projected in a most unmannerly way.

STATESMEN WHO ARE NOT LAWYERS

English Administrators, Unlike Americans, Are Not of Legal Profession.

By the MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

In this country there are few statesmen who do not belong to the legal profession, a calling which predominates in American political life. In England, it is the contrary which is the case, and the last prime minister who was a member of the bar was Lord Melbourne, Queen Victoria's first premier and earliest political mentor.' As William Lamb he was called to the bar, and practiced for a few months. But that was all. Both Gladstone and Lord Beaconsfield read for the bar at Lincoln's Inn. But neither one nor the other went through the entire course and were never called. The new prime minister, Arthur Balfour, has never studied law, nor yet has the next most important member of the cabinet, namely, Joseph Chamberlain. Indeed the only members of the cabinet who are in any way connected with the legal profession are the earl of Halsburg, who is about to resign the lord high chancellorship, Lord Ashbourne, the lord chancellor of Ireland; Lord James of Hereford, who is resigning the chancellorship of the duchy of Lancaster and the Right Honorable Akers Douglas, who is first commissioner of government public works and buildings.

Salisbury Not Decorated.

No little comment has been excited in London by the failure of the king to confer upon Lord Salisbury the newly created Order of Merit on the occasion of his resignation. If ever there was a man qualified in the public mind for this particular order it is Lord Salisbury, who is as eminent as a scientist as he has proved himself to be in the broad field of statesmanship. It was a distinction to which the learned marquis would have been particularly sensible. Yet the only token of regard and of recognition for past services which King Edward saw fit to confer upon Lord Salisbury was the Victorian order set in brilliants.

Now the Victorian order is the least distinguished of all the orders of knighthood in the gift of the British sovereign, and was created by the late queen for the express purpose of enabling her to decorate people who had won her good favor, but whose services and individuality were not considered as sufficiently distinguished to entitle them to any other order of knighthood, such as for instance that of the Bath of St. Michael and St. George, or even of the Indian empire.

Under the circumstances the gift of the Victorian order even in brilliants to Lord Salisbury can only be regarded as a further indication of the absence of any kind of sympathy between the king and himself, a condition of affairs to which attention was already aroused when the Court Circular, which is edited by royalty, in announcing that the king had accepted the resignation of the marquis, failed to express the customary regret and recognition of the services which he had rendered to the crown and to the country.

Epilogue to a Romance.

The epilogue of a romance which commenced 11 years ago with the flight to this country and marriage at Boston of young Count George Karolyi of Hungary and the Buda Pesth music hall divette, Boriska Frank, has just had its epilogue in the Magyar metropolis. It may be remembered that the count and countess, who earned their living for several years in this country by running a hotel at San Francisco, where every one of the employes, from the bookkeeper to the porter, were European noblemen who had come to financial grief, eventually returned to Hungary and took up their residence in one of the castles of the count's father, old Stephen Karolyi, president of the Hungarian house of lords. But George Karolyi, finding himself ostracised by the nobility of the district by reason of his wife's antecedents, ultimately deserted her and divorce proceedings were instituted.

The case has now been decided in favor of the actress countess, and not only have the courts freed her from the bonds of matrimony, but likewise awarded her a considerable sum by way of alimony, as well as a special allowance of $5,000 a year for the education of the little girl who is the only issue of the marriage. Let me add that the divorced countess is by several years the senior of her now liberated husband.

New Peers of the Realm.

With regard to the new peers created by the king in connection with what was to have been his coronation, I may mention that "Bertie" Mitford takes the title of Lord Rosedale, which is in fact the revival of a dignity formerly owned by his family. William Jackson, remembered as the most popular of Irish secretaries, becomes Lord Allerton, while John Balfour becomes Lord Kinross. As I have already mentioned in these letters, the king's secretary, Sir Francis Knollys, becomes Lord Knollys, while Gen. Sir Francis Grenfell becomes Lord Grenfell. There is still some hitch about the title which Mr. Smith-Barry proposes to assume, as some objections have been raised to his taking the style of Lord Barrymore by rival claimants to the dormant honors of the last Lord Barrymore, who died in the early part of the last century. Mr. Smith-Barry is the only one of the new peers who has an American wife.

House of Orsini.

Old Prince Orsini has become reconciled to the vatican, has made the necessary amends for his former misconduct, and it is partly in consequence of this that his second son, Don Lello, was nominated by the pope as a member of the special mission appointed to represent the holy see at the coronation of King Edward. Moreover, the pope has likewise taken steps to purchase through third parties the famous Orsini palace, built on the site of the ancient Theatrum Marcelli, on what is now the Via Monte Savello. The pope has taken this step for the purpose of preserving to the house of Orsini a palace which has been the scene of so much tragedy, drama and history in general of the Eternal City.

The Orsinis furnished pontiffs to the papacy as far back as in the eighth century, and at least six occupants of the holy see have been members of this family, the head of which shares with the chief of the Colonna family, the hereditary dignity of "prince assistant of the holy see." By virtura of this office, which is the principal law dignity of the pontifical court, the Princes Orsini and Colonna take it in turns to stand immediately to the right of the papal throne on all state occasions.

The Orsinis are not merely the most illustrious of Roman patricians, but likewise princes of the German empire, Neapolitan dukes and Spanish grandes. They have borne the predicate of "highness" since the year 1626, and are entitled to address the kings of Saxony, Belgium and Portugal as "cousin."

Not only has Prince Philip Orsini become reconciled to the vatican, the threshold of which he had not crossed for more than 20 years, but he has likewise become reconciled to his wife, and the decree of judicial separation which they had both sought about a decade ago has been annulled. The princess is a very charming woman, a sister of the Count Noyos, who for so many years represented the Austro-Hungarian empire at Washington. Her husband is still a very handsome man in spite of his three score years, has snow-white hair and beard, and has been for a time out of his mind, which perhaps accounts for the reckless extravagance which has contributed so much to his financial embarrassment.

Strong Enough Already.

A skeleton of a prehistoric man with an eight-inch jaw has been dug up in Texas. It wasn't needed down there—nor in Nebraska.

PERSONALS.

"Do you notice that no city's name is given as the residence of these two arrivals," asked a clerk at one of the leading downtown hotels, last evening, pointing to two names on the register. "That means that these people are from either Kalamazoo, Mich., or Goshen or Kokomo, Ind. These names have been made the butt of so many jokes in the comic papers as typifying the essence of provincialism, that the residents of the towns, when away from home, dislike to acknowledge their home town. They fear that some joke will be cracked at the expense of the towns, and rather than have that happen give no address. These three towns, more than any others in the country, suffer from that."

"Electrical manufacturers believe that within a very short time wireless telegraphy will be as entirely a commercial proposition as ordinary telephonic and telegraphic work is today," said H. B. Kirkland, general manager of a Boston electrical company, last evening. "Much of my time is spent at Washington. There I have seen the progress of the government's work in this direction. All the stages of experiment are now passed. The wireless system is a success, and it awaits merely the development that can come only from experience with it, as in the case of the Morse system."

Maj. Thomas S. Crago, commander of the Second Battalion, and Lieut. R. E. Kent of Company K, Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers, spent last night at the Seventh Avenue. Both are from Waynesburg and are en route to the reunion of the famous regiment at Uniontown today. There is every promise of a large turnout of the old members of this command.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Thomas D. Reese.

Word was received yesterday by Mrs. David Jonss of Jones avenue, North Braddock, of the death of her brother, Thomas D. Reese, of Johnstown, a member of an old and prominent family of that city. All the relatives of Mr. Reese live in this vicinity, including a brother and two sisters, David W. Reese of Homestead, a department superintendent at the Homestead steel works; Miss Sarah Reese of Grey avenue, Braddock, and Mrs. David Jones. The deceased had been engaged for many years in the music business. He was born in Wales, and settled in Johnstown with his father, David D. Reese, about 55 years ago, when he was but 5 years old. His mother lost her life in the flood of 1889, and his father died 27 years ago. In 1861, when a boy of 17, he ran away from his home in Johnstown because his parents did not want him to go to war, and enlisted at Philadelphia in Company M, Second Pennsylvania volunteers, heavy artillery. He served with the regiment until the close of the war, and returned to Johnstown and engaged in business. He was a member of Emory post No. 30, G. A. R., of Johnstown, and of the First Baptist church.

CRIES OUT AGAINST TIPS.

Subscriber Pleads for Abatement of the Gratuity Nuisance.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Will the Old Lady take up the question of "tips" which is now an unmitigated nuisance (and is expected everywhere by waiters, barbers and any one you deal with) and endeavor to have them abated?

The writer was in a well-known cafe recently when a waiter sought employment. The manager told him he would pay $20 per month, which the applicant thought was small wages, but was told, "Oh, you will make twice that in tips."

In other words

SIEBERT'S JOB IS WANTED BY ANOTHER MAN

Henry F. Kramer, a Twenty-First Ward Politician, Is Out for It.

HE COMBINES WITH CLARK

Having Proved He Is Able to Make a Showing in Ward Politics, He Wants His Ability Recognized. Furore Created at City Hall.

Ex-Select Councilman James M. Clarke headed a delegation of machine workers from the Twenty-first ward who conferred with City Recorder Brown yesterday. The members of the delegation are also members of the Twenty-first ward committee, and one of the prominent members of the party was Henry F. Kramer, chairman of the ward committee.

When Clark appeared in company with Chairman Kramer it created something of a furore among city hall attaches who are aware of the condition of political affairs in that ward. Members of the delegation said after the talk that they expected the meeting to result in some good to the organization.

Chairman Kramer is a clerk in the office of the bureau of parks, and is one of the right hand men of William Falconer, superintendent of the park bureau. Kramer has gone along with the machine in the ward for years and feels that he has not been sufficiently compensated for what he has done. The position he holds pays $100 a month, and he thinks a salary of that size is very discouraging to ambition.

Kramer now thinks the position Elmer E. Siebert holds, superintendent of Highland park, would just about fit him. The job pays $2,500 per annum. It was for the purpose of getting that place that he and his friends besieged the chief executive in his city hall office yesterday.

Siebert May Be Deposed.

There has been a rumor in machine circles for a week that Siebert is likely to be deposed. Controller Larkin is not paying Siebert any salary, and a man who cannot stir around lively enough to get a warrant each month is not wanted by the machine.

Kramer heard of this rumor and he summoned his influence with the intention of getting the place, if it is at all possible to do so. What Recorder Brown told the party is not known. A great deal depends upon what it is finally decided to do with Siebert.

It is understood that Controller Larkin does not object to the position but to the man who fills it. He might be willing to pay Kramer, and Kramer is perfectly willing to take a chance.

Kramer got a place with the machine by the well-known method of whipping it into subjection. He was a Republican out in the Twenty-first ward, and voted the machine ticket for years but got nothing. Early this spring he conceived the idea of being chairman of the ward committee. He made his application at Sixth avenue headquarters, but was told that he would have to see James M. Clark, who retired as select councilman from the ward last spring. He saw Clark and Clark told him that he could not have the place. Kramer is one of those unreasonable people who refuse to take some other man's dictum, and he quietly prepared for a fight.

How Kramer Won Recognition.

The fight came on, eventually. Hugh King was Clark's candidate, and Kramer went alone, encouraged by the anti-Clark and anti-Flinn feeling among members of the ward committee, Clark being considered a thoroughly Flinn man and a representative of the bossism prevailing at the Sixth avenue headquarters.

The fight went merrily on, until Clark discovered that Kramer had King whipped to a finish. Clark then told King he would have to get out of the running. Clark went into the breach himself, and stood for chairman of the ward committee. When the votes were counted, it was found that Kramer had a good lead and this administered a finishing blow to Clark in the politics of the ward.

A truce has been patched up, however, and Clark was with the delegation yesterday to show the powers that he that he is now on good terms with the machine in his own ward. Whether he is really after Siebert's scalp is a query. Kramer believes he has Clark's undivided support in the contest he is making.

Citizens Party in the Sixth.

John Campbell, who has been actively at work organizing the Sixth district for the Citizens party, was at headquarters yesterday and is elated over the signs that the district will give all the candidates on the Citizens ticket a comfortable majority.

"The district has not been thoroughly aroused yet," he said, "but the people with whom I have talked are for the most part for the Citizens' candidates. The people are against the 'court house crowd' as they express it. The sentiment has been growing for years."

ATLANTIC CITY.

Two Pittsburgh Women Among Those Willing to Help George W. Barnes Get British Fortune.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 30.—(Special.)—George W. Barnes, the roller chair pusher who was recently left a fortune by an uncle in England provided he did not marry a certain girl, is receiving hundreds of letters from women intent on matrimony. Two of these letters are from young women residing in Pittsburgh, who are desirous of making the acquaintance of Barnes. Their desire is closely related to a clause in the will which provides that the money shall be paid to Barnes immediately after his marriage to any woman other than the one objected to by his late uncle.

Fishermen Become Cowboys.

A cow fish, believed to be the only one ever caught on the Jersey coast, was discovered in the big net at the ocean pier today. Fishermen noticed that there was an unusual commotion in the net, and on investigation found the cow fish. It is six feet two inches in length, five feet thick, and weighs between 800 and 900 pounds. There is a fin on its backbone and another on its belly, each being three feet wide when outspread. The eyes of the fish closely resemble those of a cow, and the creature bellows like a cow.

Bathers Nearly Got Wet.

An unusually high tide created considerable excitement along the beach this afternoon. The surf came in viciously, and several rash bathers needed assistance. Between the Steeplechase and Ocean piers the water at times swpt up half way to th boardwalk, causing stampedes of spectators.

CHAUTAUQUA.

Excursion Day Draws Large Crowd and Program Is Full and Varied.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 30.—(Special.)—This was excursion day to Chautauqua from nearby towns. It has been a clear, beautiful day, and the number of those who took advantage of the weather and low rates ran into the thousands.

The program was full and varied enough to suit all tastes. The Rev. George Jackson, the Scotch evangelist, discussed "Difficulties About Religion." Prof. Alcee Fortier of Tulane university, New Orleans, delivered a lecture on the "French Revolution," which was especially valuable because of the speaker's French ancestry.

Prof. Fortier also lectured in the French language on Louisiana, tracing the early history of the colony under French and Spanish rule. He gave a history of the French language as spoken in Louisiana, and read a poem in the dialect of the Acadians.

Edward Howard Griggs' subject was "Marcus Aurelius as a Moral Leader." Frank Cattern delivered his illustrated lecture on "Chautauqua a Great Social Movement," and W. W. Ellsworth gave a lecture on "Arnold and Andre," illustrated by what is said to be the best and most extensive collection of views in the world.

The operatic concert today had a Wagner program. The Tannhauser march and the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" by the choir were especially fine.

MANY NAVY RECRUITS.

Lieutenant Commander Quimby Is Pleased With Class of Men Pittsburgh Is Furnishing.

The United States navy recruiting office in the Federal building had an unusual crowd of applicants yesterday, and some 20 men and boys were accepted.

"We are not touring the country for recruits," said Lieutenant Commander J. C. Quimby. "We are after American-born recruits and are getting the very class we need. Fully 81 per cent of the sailors in the United States navy are American-born. The remainder have enlisted at the seacoast ports and are taken as seamen.

"We are obtaining here a better class of men than we have found in any of the cities we have visited. In fact, I have examined some men who are worthy of a higher class than I am authorized to enlist, and in several cases I have felt compelled to write the department for special permission to enlist them.

"Our party will leave here on Saturday night for Wheeling, where we will be for a few days, and then expect to return to Pittsburgh for another week."

ANNOUNCEMENT is made of the engagement of Miss Janey Mulhern Coard, daughter of Mrs. Jane A. Hall of Sewickley, and Anthony W. Smith, Jr., of "Rose Ridge," Mt. Washington. Miss Coard, though living for the last five years in the Sewickley valley, is well known to a great many Pittsburgh people. She was until a few weeks ago the editor and owner of the Sewickley Valley. Previous to her work in connection with it she was attached to Pittsburgh papers, notably the Press and the Bulletin. Miss Coard comes of a literary family on her mother's side, her grandfather, Mr. Mulhern, being an Irishman who was noted for his brilliant Irish wit. One of her uncles is a Baptist clergyman in the west. Among her cousins are Miss Madelaine Bridges, the poet, and Seumas McManus, whose popular tales of Irish life are frequently found in the magazine literature of the day. Miss Coard herself is versatile and energetic, and a fluent writer.

Mr. Smith is one of the firm of A. W. Smith, well-known florists in Sixth avenue.

No date has been announced for the wedding. Miss Coard is living with her mother in Maple lane, Sewickley. Since being relieved of the duties connected with the Sewickley Valley, which was purchased by George F. Muller, she has been planning a long trip to the west. Mr. Smith and his bride-elect will choose a home in the East End, near the home of Miss Coard's brother, Robert Coard, in Howe street, and Mrs. Hall will be near both of her children.

Pleasant Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall Morton of Beechwood boulevard have been in the habit of taking an annual wedding trip to celebrate the anniversary of their first trip together, 62 years ago last Tuesday, July 29. This year, for the first time, the trip may be given up because of Mr. Morton's health.

Their first trip together was from Washington, Pa., where they were married on July 29, 1840, to Pittsburgh. They rode in a buggy, leaving soon after their wedding at 10 o'clock in the morning. After spending several days in Pittsburgh they returned to Washington. Each anniversary since then has been marked by a trip, sometimes short, and often, in later years, quite extended, when they visited all sections of the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton have made Pittsburgh their home for the last 54 years, and for 40 years have lived in the house in Squirrel hill which is still their home. The house for many years was surrounded by an extensive farm, all of which was under cultivation. In later years, as Mr. Morton took less active interest in the place, and their children married and went to homes of their own, Mr. and Mrs. Morton disposed of a great deal of the farm, yet still there is a good deal of the country to be seen from the windows of their house, and their children and grandchildren often hold parties and picnics in the fields about them. Mrs. Morton, whose name was Miss Chrissa A. Wilson, was a Western Pennsylvania girl, her home being in Washington, Pa. Mr Morton, came from Massachusetts. He is a Son of the American Revolution and one of his ancestors was Abram Clark, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. Abram Clark's home was in Roselle, N. J., where it still stands, a plain colonial house in the midst of an orchard of fruit trees.

Because of Mr. Morton's ill health, no formal celebration of the wedding anniversary was held, but Mr. and Mrs. Morton dined on Tuesday evening with their daughter, Mrs. Rebecca Morton Oursler and her children. Covers were laid for 10. Mrs. Oursler's little grandchild, the daughter of Mrs. Harry Secrest of Cleveland, represented the fourth generation at the dinner.

Griffith—Jacob.

A pretty home wedding took place yesterday afternoon, the bride being Miss Belle Griffith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Griffith of Kelly street, East End, and Lewis Hurst Jacob of Wellsburg, W. Va. The ceremony was performed at 2 o'clock by the Rev. R. H. Hood, pastor of the Mt. Washington Presbyterian church, a cousin of the bride, assisted by the Rev. Joseph P. Calhoun, pastor of the Homewood Avenue Presbyterian church. The bride was given away by her father. Miss A. Belle Watson of Indiana, Pa., was the maid of honor and J. F. Jacob, a brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. After the wedding dinner Mr. and Mrs. Jacob left for a trip including the Great Lakes and Canada. They will be at home after September 1 at Kelly street and Braddock avenue, East End.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffith and their family recently came to Pittsburgh from Johnstown, Pa. Mr. Jacob is an alumnus of Washington and Jefferson college, a member of the class of 1897.

Last Day of the Playgrounds.

The summer playgrounds and vacation schools will close a week from tomorrow, after a successful season of six weeks. The palm is given to the Third Ward school playground in Allegheny for enrollment, having reached the 700 mark. Five hundred children were received on the first day the playgrounds were opened and the congested condition of that playground has forced the workers to try to find another playground in that same ward for next season. Though there is scarcely room for the games the children have flocked to the playground anxious to be permitted to enter and have appreciated the fact that they have some place to go pleasanter than the alleys and streets. Flower day is observed twice a week at the Third ward playgrounds, Tuesday and Friday, the greater number of the flowers being provided by the people of Sewickley. The children eagerly look for the little bouquet which is given them as they leave the grounds.

This afternoon he again went driving, and so far as appearances go he was in his normal health.

Mrs. Schwab returned from New York this morning and has arranged to leave tomorrow for Loretto, to remain a week or ten days.

Of Interest to Hay Fever Sufferers.

Physicians generally recommend a change of climate for the relief of hay fever, where such weeds and flowers as ragweed and honeysuckle are not indigenous, as these and many other flowers and grasses aggravate the disease. Many localities have been recommended, such as mountainous regions and the sea coast, but generally at these resorts a great deal depends upon the vagaries of the wind, and results are not always satisfactory, as if the wind should blow off shore, as it frequently does, there is no relief.

In Muskoka and among the 30,000 islands of the Georgian bay, conditions are different. It is of no consequence which way the wind blows. The preponderance of water area to land surface; the curative odors of balsam and pine, together with the elevation of a thousand feet above the sea, renders hay fever an impossible condition in these districts. Handsome illustrated booklet entitled, "Hay Fever: How to Avoid and Cure," may be had free, by applying to G. T. Bell, general passenger and ticket agent, Grand Trunk Railway System, Montreal, Canada.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 30.—After the walloping they received yesterday at Washington park, Brooklyn, the Superbas went into the game today with a wholesome respect for the prowess of the "Smoketown" Pirates.

Nineteen hits made off Hughes and Newton had taught them that the Pirates' batting proclivities were of a startling order and they were determined to develop, if possible, a heavy batting streak today on their own account.

The result of yesterday's game had its effect on the attendance. Comparatively few of the "fans" were out and those present were not in an enthusiastic mood. From boasting that the Hanlonites would win a majority of the series, they came down to the statement that they would be lucky to obtain an even break.

It was doubtful at 4 o'clock if a game of five innings could be played, owing to threatening weather.

Tannehill Pitched Well.

Tannehill, who has always been a terror to the Hanlonites, pitched his usual good game today, not a run being scored against him until the sixth inning, when two errors and three hits netted the Brooklyns four runs.

Ritchey was the only Pirate who did any stickwork, he securing one-half the Pirates' hits. Wagner showed a reversal of form with the stick today, Kitson fanning him twice.

In the first inning Pittsburgh scored their only run after Capt. Clarke had nearly taken Irwin off his feet with a grounder, which Irwin managed to get to first ahead of the runner.

Beaumont singled and stole second. Leach followed with a hit past short, scoring Beaumont. Wagner got a pass to first.

Leach Caught at Third.

Bransfield's hit to left went right into Sheckard's hands, he not moving to grab it. Leach was caught trying to steal third, on a close decision.

After this inning the Pirates could not do much with Kitson, he keeping his hits well scattered.

Brooklyn scored four runs in the sixth. Keeler and Dolan singled. Dahlen followed suit, scoring Keeler, and Dolan reaching second. Tannehill hit Farrell with the ball, filling the bases.

Tom McCreery punched the ball to right, sending in Dolan and Dahlen. McCreery was caught napping off the base by a quick thrown from Tannehill. Irwin hit for a single, scoring Farrell. Ritchey and Bransfield easily disposed of Flood.

One more run was scored by the Brooklyns in the eighth, when Dahlen hit to left field for two bases, and scored on sacrifices by Carroll and McCreery.

NEW YORK, July 30.—New York reversed matters with the St. Louis team today and won by a score of 2 to 1. Cronin's pitching was particularly effective, only two hits being made off him, and his hit to left field brought in the winning run in the seventh inning. The score:

Boston Players Unable to Hit Selee's Pitchers.

BOSTON, July 30.—Boston lost two games to Chicago today through inability to connect safely with the ball. In the first game Taylor held Boston down to two hits and Chicago only touched Willis for four. In the second game Eason was hit hard, but brilliant fielding prolonged the game to 13 innings, when Chicago batted in two runs. Scores:

"THE WILDEST YARN OF THE BASEBALL YEAR"

This Is Harry Pulliam's Denial of Story That Ban Johnson Is to Buy Pittsburgh Team.

Pittsburgh is a city of baseball rumors and the very latest is certainly the limit. It came out last night and was circulated by the enemies of Col. Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh baseball team, who insist that Dreyfuss shall take his team over to the American league next season.

The yarn was that Ban B. Johnson, president of the American league, had intimated that Col. Dreyfuss wanted him to purchase the Pittsburgh team for an American league organization in this city.

The story is a pipe dure and simple. It is one of the silliest fakes that has been perpetrated on the owners of the Pittsburgh baseball team since it has been in existence. It was gotten up simply to injure the club and detract from the splendid record it has made during the present season.

Barney Dreyfuss has no intention of going into the American league. If he had he would do so at once. He has denied this and time again that he will go to the American and his latest statement on this question was made only last week.

The New York representative of The Gazette found Secretary Pulliam at the Marlborough hotel last night and he gave out the following statement: "The story that Ban B. Johnson has intimated that Dreyfuss wants him to buy the Pittsburgh team is one of the wildest yarns of the baseball season.

"Mr. Johnson never made any such a statement. He has better sense. The Pittsburgh club is not for sale and even if it was there would be no difficulty in disposing of the franchise in Pittsburgh without traveling to Chicago or New York to do it. Mr. Dreyfuss is at Bedford Springs and will join the team here Monday."

Fred Clarke, manager of the Pirates, was equally as emphatic in his denial of the story. He said: "I do not believe it is Dreyfuss' intention to jump. It is for him to decide and I do not believe he has any thought of going over to the American. He has no good cause to do so. I am only an employe under contract, however, and should not talk on the matter at all."

NAIL CITY GOLFERS LOST TO PITTSBURGH TEAM

By J. N. PATTERSON.
Staff Correspondent.

WHEELING, W. VA., July 30.—Not allowing a single home player to win, the picked team of Pittsburgh golfers defeated the Wheeling Golf club 15 holes up, and tonight the remarkable game played by C. D. Fownes, Highland's boy wonder, is furnishing the biggest sensation Nail City golfers have had since the introduction of the game here.

Fownes scored more than half of Pittsburgh's tally with eight holes to his credit and equalled both the six-hole and 18-hole records.

Still more remarkable, Fownes played with borrowed clubs and rimmed a 15-foot putt on the last hole for a new record. In addition he had several hard luck holes, and Wheeling stands astounded at his play.

Pittsburgh won four matches, while two were tied. Julius Pollock, holding the club practice record of 23, who just donned long trousers last week, was pitted against Robert Kester, Jr., the boy champion of Edgewood, the match ending all even. The Pittsburgh team was composed of three Edgewood, two Highland and one Westmoreland player. They were entertained at dinner after the match.

A return game is to be played with Edgewood in September. Score:

Cleveland, July 30.—The locals won a most exciting postponed game from Chicago today. Neither team scored until the ninth, when McCarthy's single, followed by Daly's failure to make an easy double play, which would have retired the side, and Flick's two-bagger sent in one run for Cleveland. Owing to a wreck the two teams did not arrive until 4 p. m. Lajoie's train was late and Thoney took his place. The score:

WORLD'S RECORD MADE BY PACERS

AVERAGE TIME IN SIX-HEAT RACE FOR SIX MILES WAS 2:06.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Columbus, O., July 30.—Eighteen hard-fought heats were decided today in the Grand Circuit races and the racing was the most sensational ever witnessed over the local track. The 2:09 pacers made a world's record for a six-heat race, the average time for the six miles being exactly 2:06.

Three heats of this race were paced on Monday, and when the event was taken up today Fred S. Wedgewood had two heats to his credit and Captain Sphinx on. Wedgewood was an even money favorite over the field, but he did not have his usual speed, and Dan R took three straight heats and the race. The race was the first on the card and the track was still heavy on the inside, owing to the hard rains of yesterday.

The horses were compelled to go long miles and under the circumstances Dan R's first heat, in 2:06¼, was equal to a mile in 2:05 or better. He paced the last quarter of the sixth heat in 30½ seconds.

The 2:12 trot went through seven heats, each of which was bitterly fought. Leola was the favorite at $50 to $60 for the field of seven. She trotted an easy mile in the first heat, which was won by Border in slow time. The next two went to Leola, who trotted the third in 2:10¼, reducing her record a full second. The fast mile was too much for her and she could not get up again.

Dan T. always a contender after the first heat, won the fourth. Then Hudson uncovered the roan 4-year-old mare, Hawthorne, who had laid up the first three heats, and won the next three and the race, taking a record of 2:12¼.

Leola made a bid for first money in the final heat, but was out-trotted by Hawthorne in the stretch.

The blind stallion, Rhythmic, winner of the M. and T. stake, outclassed his field in the $5,000 stake for 2:23 trotters, and won as he pleased.

The General, from the Ketcham farm, was played for place, but broke hopelessly in the third heat, and was distanced. The 2:25 pace, two in three heats, went to Pearl Lester, after J. C. T. had taken the first heat. Junius, the even money favorite, was not prominent until the last heat, when he failed to catch the Lester made.

The 2:13 trot was postponed until tomorrow, after Elle Lee and Miss Johnson had each taken a heat. It was announced today that Tyron McHenry will drive the unbeaten pacer, Dan Patch, 2:03¾, a mile to beat 2:01¼, the record of his sire, Joe Patchen, on the final day of the meeting, next Saturday. WINDSORS TAKE AN EASY CONTEST FROM HARVARDS

Coming Allegheny Champions Win in a Walk by a 5 to 2 Score.

HEALY'S FINE PITCHING

He Let His Opponents Down With Three Hits and Struck Out Twelve Harvard Batters—Mocar Bats Well for Windsor.

The Windsors experienced very little difficulty in defeating the Harvard team at Exposition park yesterday afternoon by the score of 5 to 2. There appeared to be nothing to the game but Healey, the Windsors' crack pitcher. He twirled steady ball during the entire contest, let the Harvards down with three hits and fanned out 12 batters.

The game was a pretty one throughout and very interesting for the spectators. Harvard scored first in the third and in the next inning the Windsors scored two runs. Neither team scored in the fifth, but the Windsors succeeded in getting two more across the pan in the sixth. They scored their last run of the game in the seventh while Harvard added another to their string in the last half of the ninth.

Mocar and Patton batted well for Windsors, the former having four hits and the latter three. Burgess, at second, put up a fine fielding game for Harvard, having but one error in eight chances. Shiele caught a good game. The score:

HILL WAS NOT KILLED.

Bellboy Stole His Money After He Was Dead—Confesses This Much.

CANTON, O., July 30.—(Special.)—William Crawford, the Barnett house bellboy, held for the grand jury on a charge of murder, confessed to stealing $25 from the pockets of the man he was accused of murdering. He says he entered the room out of curiosity and, seeing a roll of bills in the guest's pocket, transferred it to his own. He will get a workhouse sentence.

Philip Hendrick, a barber, today explained away the mystery of Vincent Hill's death. He recognized a picture in the Repository as that of a man he shaved Friday, the day before his death. He asked careful treatment because of a hole in the head sustained in a fall from a vehicle while breaking a colt. The same man left a package in the barber shop which when opened today disclosed a blood-stained shirt. Hill was dissuading and the wounds sustained in the runaway may have caused death.

OIL CITY, PA., July 30.—(Special.)—Joseph Sack, 18 years old, of this city, was bitten on the hand this afternoon by a copperhead snake.

ENGLISHMEN HAD NO REGULAR GAMES

PLAYED TWO SETS, HOWEVER, AT LONGWOOD.

Will Play Another Double Match This Morning According to Schedule and Again on Friday—Wrenn Brothers Will Appear in Today's Play.

LONGWOOD, MASS., July 30.—The tennis at the Longwood Cricket club today proved of little interest. Neither R. F. or H. L. Doherty, the Englishmen, had regular games, but they played a couple of sets with each other, during which they showed some of the fastest tennis seen in this country for some time.

Tomorrow they will play another of their double matches against Neely and Wilbar in the eastern championship series, and by Friday will probably meet W. A. Larned and Leo Ware.

The best match today was between W. J. Clothier of Philadelphia and Richard Stevens of Hoboken, Clothier winning three sets.

Tomorrow Clothier will meet Irving Wright in the lower half of the semifinals, while Holcombe Ward plays Leo Ware in the upper half.

The tournament will also be enlivened tomorrow by the appearance of the Wrenn brothers, R. D. and George L., and the pair are down for two good matches with a chance of meeting the Doherty brothers in the finals on Saturday. Summary of the day's play:

DR. SPENCE BELIEVES HE CAN HELP SCHWAB

Has Process for Manufacture of Steel Which He Believes Will Capture Steel Corporation's Big Prize.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., July 30.—Dr. S. D. Spence, an elderly practicing physician of Ridgedale, a suburb of Chattanooga, has entered a $1,000,000 competition. In his younger days Dr. Spence was a great student of metals and his researches along the lines of iron and steel formation were very original, as well as the result of no little talent and inventive genius.

In 1891 he put the finishing touches on some drawings and a carefully prepared article on a process of steel manufacture, and taking them to a magistrate he swore to the authorship of the entire idea presented in his article. The papers were shown to men of experience in steel manufacture and all agreed that the idea was a bold one, but apparently feasible. In the course of time Dr. Spence lost interest in his discovery and the papers were laid away and their contents all but forgotten.

Over a week ago there was published a statement from President Schwab, of the United States Steel Corporation, offering $1,000,000 to any one who would originate a shorter and less expensive method to manufacture the standard quality of steel. When Dr. Spence read the account he thought at once of his papers laid away in an old cupboard, and taking them out, he again went through the details, and becoming convinced that there was no doubt that the plan was the one that President Schwab was after, he brought them to his lawyer.

The attorney addressed a communication to Mr. Schwab, telling him about the plan of Dr. Spence, and explaining its details. Dr. Spence refuses to make public his process.

CASE IS SETTLED.

Countess De Castellane Agrees to Pay Wertheimer Claim in Four Annual Installments.

PARIS, July 30.—(Special Cable.)—It was learned today that Mr. Samuel Untermyer of New York, while in Paris a couple of days ago en route to St. Moritz, succeded in effecting a settlement of the long-pending litigation between Asher Wertheimer, the London antiquity dealer, and Count and Countess Boni de Castellane.

Suits have been before the American courts for more than a year, and are still undecided, six judges who have thus far heard the cases being divided equally in opinion. The case is now on appeal to the highest court of New York.

By terms of settlement Mr. Wertheimer's claim is admitted for the full amount, with interest at 4 per cent. Countess de Castellane agrees to pay at the rate of $100,000 per year. The claim with interest amounts to $400,000. To secure the payments the American courts are to make an order for the installments to be paid out of the income in the hands of George J. Gould, as trustee. To provide against the possibility of loss in the event of Countess de Castellane's death, it is agreed that she furnish Mr. Wertheimer with life insurance policies for the amount of the claim in full.

REVENUE LESS BY MANY MILLIONS DURING THE YEAR

COSTS MORE TO COLLECT

Handling of Rebate Claims and Redemption of Stamps Add to Expense of Bureau for Time Being. Preliminary Report Made.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., July 30.—The commissioner of internal revenue has prepared the annual preliminary report of the operations of his bureau for the fiscal year ended June 30. The report shows that the receipts from all sources of internal revenue for the year aggregated $271,867,990, which includes $373,378 tax on money orders turned over by the postmaster general to the collector for the district of Maryland, and for which no expenses for collection was incurred, making a decrease of $35,003,679 from the receipts for the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1901, and which decrease resulted from the provisions of the act of congress of date March 2, 1901, reducing in part and repealing in part the war revenue taxes imposed under the act of congress of June 13, 1898.

The expenses of the bureau for fiscal year will approximate $4,712,894, and the percentage of cost of collection, less tax on money orders, as above stated, will be $1.74 on each $100, an increase of 19 cents, as compared with the preceding fiscal year. The increased percentage of cost of conducting the bureau is due largely to increased expenses attending changes in the revenue laws, the cost of handling rebate claims and redemption of stamps.

MONONGAHELA RISES.

Heavy Rains Along Its Tributaries Did Much Damage.

The Monongahela river got in line yesterday and furnished a rise of one foot in the afternoon. Reports from up the river indicated that still higher water might be looked for, although it is not expected that it will be of long duration and may pass away before noon today. At noon yesterday there was seven feet at Market street, and the river was rising three inches an hour. From the Sixth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth pools heavy rains were reported. Up Ten Mile creek, it is said, a cloudburst occurred Tuesday night and a large amount of water was looked for out of this tributary. In Muddy creek, it was reported, all the bridges had been washed away by the flood. Near the mouth of this creek the Gertrude on her way fom Morgantown Tuesday night encountered a mass of wreckage that gave her considerable trouble. The rain was the heaviest that has fallen up the Monongahela river for weeks and many rivermen predicted nine feet of water today. The Allegheny is due for another rise, as the rains on the headwaters Tuesday night were very heavy. It is not unlikely that barge water will continue for several days.

Craighill of the Ohio Valley Improvement association to build all dams and locks on the Ohio river at one time. This would mean yearly navigation from headwaters to Louisville at least.

COURT'S AWARD TO DR. BROWNING IS EXCEPTED TO

Attorneys Allege Judge J. W. Over Erred Twenty-Three Times.

MAY TAKE AN APPEAL

Decision Giving Philadelphia Physician $29,000 from the Magee Estate for Services Is Objected to Because of the Findings of Fact.

Attorneys W. B. Rodgers and J. Rodgers McCreery yesterday in orphans' court filed exceptions to the decree of Judge J. W. Over in awarding to Dr. Walter V. Browning a little over $29,000 upon his claim of $350,000 from the estate of the late C. L. Magee.

It is charged that the award is inadequate and insufficient; that the court erred in not finding the rates for treatment outside of the office were $40 an hour; that bills are prima facie evidence, and in not finding the doctor's nurse mailed bills to the decedent except for June, 1899.

It is declared that the court erred in finding that the nurse's possession of certain cards from which charges were made was not conclusive evidence, and that the court erred in holding the claimant to production or proof of loss or destruction of the engagement cards. It is alleged the court erred in holding that the doctor combined pleasure with business in visiting his patient in Atlantic City, and that his charges should be no more than his regular visits in Philadelphia.

The remarks of Judge Over about the attention of the doctor to his patient on the Pocono trip are excepted to, and exceptions are also taken to his honor's decision in finding that Mr. Magee did not agree to pay for eight hours' service each night.

Exceptions are taken to the holding of the court that it would not be reasonable to suppose that the doctor should receive more for his night treatment than he ordinarily received. It is also claimed that the court erred in reviewing the testimony of the doctor's nurse, in disallowing the claim for night hours, as it was presented, and in crediting $1,000 on the bill. It is also claimed that the court was wrong in disallowing the claim upon the investment account and for certain other services.

HALT IS CALLED.

Condemnation Proceedings to Vacate Property for Jail Purposes Fail.

Judge R. S. Frazer yesterday handed down an opinion vacating the proceedings to condemn three pieces of property back of the county jail. The decision was rendered upon a petition filed for Caroline Smith, asking for the vacation for want of jurisdiction. It was claimed that the petitions must receive the approval of two grand juries and of the judges of the court of common pleas.

After quoting the law upon the matter, the court says that it is not informed by the petition for what purpose the land is to be condemned and that the purposes for which the land is required should have been definitely stated. The court also says that the fact that two grand juries did not report in the matter is alone fatal to the proceedings. A new formal approval by the grand jury is not in conformity with the requirements of the act. Judge Frazer contends that there should have been an examination and consideration of the matter by the grand juries, and that they should have made a report of that examination and consideration.

INTEREST NOW AROUSED

It Is Understood That Construction Will Be Readily Authorized by Director J. Guy McCandless as Soon as Demand Is Made.

The success of the Pittsburgh contingent in the recent national amateur golf tournament at Chicago has stimulated popular interest in the game among Pittsburghers. As a consequence there is a renewal of the demand for a public course, where any citizen can enjoy a game without being a member of a club.

The city officials, it is believed, will accede to this demand and establish links in at least one of the parks in the near future. It is well known that the public links, established and cared for by the municipal governments in New York, Chicago and other cities, have become exceedingly popular. In Chicago it is nothing uncommon to see 10,000 people on the links at the same time, either as players or spectators, and the ancient and royal game is firmly installed, not only in the hearts of the wealthy class, but among those of moderate means.

The fact that parts of the local parks are occupied by the links of exclusive clubs will not interfere with the establishment of public links.

Intruders Uncomfortable.

These club links in the parks are supposed to be public, and no one is forbidden to play on them, but the fact of the matter is that no one ever tried it more than once. The clubs pay for the maintenance of that portion of the parks used by them, and intruders, while not ordered off, are not made to feel at all comfortable. Superintendent of Parks William Falconer, when spoken to concerning the matter yesterday, said: "There is no reason why a course could not be established and maintained in Schenley park. I have had the site in mind for some time, expecting a demand on the part of the public for links in the parks.

"As soon as application is made to Director J. Guy McCandless for a public links, by any number of people, I have no doubt that he will take steps toward establishing it. It would cost something to maintain links and keep a good class of caddies for the service of the public.

Expense to City.

"The first-named expense would have to be taken out of the appropriation for the parks, but, of course, the caddies would be paid by the people who used the links.

"The site I have already picked for public links when they are authorized is better fitted naturally for the purpose than the ground used by the Pittsburgh Golf club. It is directly back of the race track, and between it and the bridle-path. "I also want another shelter house and a playground for children established in the same locality. There should be a little lake where the youngsters might wade around in water 18 inches or less in depth. This, with sandpiles, swings and other forms of amusement for the children, would prove a great boon to many a sickly youngster, and that part of the park, which is seldom visited now, would become one of its most popular and useful portions."

HOCOK GOT OFF EASY.

Allegheny Man Confronted by Neighbors, Who Testify That He Grossly Abuses His Family.

Enoch Hocok's thrilling experience last Sunday night, followed by a few days of quiet, during which he had time to think matters over, probably had more to do with bringing him to his senses than anything which occurred yesterday in the office of Alderman Samuel Abernathey of Allegheny, when he was prosecuted by the Western Pennsylvania Humane society for cruelty and neglect of his family.

Hocok lives at No. 25 Brabec street, Allegheny, and it is alleged by his neighbors that he frequently abused his wife and children. Last Sunday Hocok is said to have taken his 5-year-old son to a speakeasy on Troy hill and kept him there until a late hour. Neighbors of Hocock testified that they discovered him dragging the boy by the heels through the street when on his way home. This action so incensed the people living in Brabec street that they wanted to lynch Hocok, and would probably have done so had not the police taken a determined stand against the crowd and removed the man from the locality.

Besides the testimony of neighbors, Hocok's wife testified to the abuse and neglect to which Hocok has subjected the family. He was fined $10 and costs. Besides paying his fine he was also prevailed upon to sign an agreement not to drink again for one year and to treat his wife and children properly.

FOR EMBARKATION DAY.

Knights of Columbus Will Hold Annual Outing at Atlantic City on August 2.

Five thousand members of the Knights of Columbus, from all sections of the country, will gather in Atlantic City the latter part of this week, to celebrate "embarkation day." The celebration will likewise take the form of a reunion of the Knights.

The festivities will continue for several days, beginning Saturday evening with a grand reception and ball on one of the piers. At the reunion banquet the Hon. M. B. Byrne, United States district attorney for Delaware, will be one of the speakers, Francis P. Smith, LL.D., of this city will respond to the toast, "The Future of the Order as Judged by the Present."

The local Knights will leave here Friday in special cars over the Pennsylvania lines. Sunday morning there will be a pontifical mass in the Church of Mary Star of the Sea. Some of the more prominent bishops and clergymen will assist at this celebration.

"Embarkation day" is an annual fete day for the Knights and is held in commemoration of the embarkation of Christopher Columbus from Palos, Spain, August 2, 1492.

Morley's Present From Carnegie.

LONDON, July 30.—Andrew Carnegie, who bought the famous library belonging to Lord Acton, has presented it to John Morley.

What One Cent Will Do.

One cent's worth of natural gas will heat a room 16 feet square in ordinary winter weather for 24 hours. It will cook a Sunday dinner and not heat up the whole house in summer time. Cleaner, safer and better than coal. It's the poor man's luxury. To induce non-consumers to arrange for gas now instead of waiting until winter, when streets cannot be torn up the Philadelphia Company will make connections and set meter free of charge. Ask at 610 Wood street.

IRON ORE FIELD HARDLY EQUALS REQUIREMENTS

One Company Spends Fortune in Prospecting for New Ore Mines.

INDEPENDENTS WORRIED

Present Known Region Practically Controlled by United States Steel Corporation—Production of Canadian Districts of Inferior Quality.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 30.—The constantly increasing value of the ore properties of the Lake Superior region is reflected in a statement made today by a steel official, that during the last 18 months an independent steel concern spent $500,000 in prospecting with practically no success. It is a well-known fact that few new iron ore mines have been located within the past few months, which is causing considerable anxiety on the part of certain independent steel companies that are not in a position to call themselves independent from the standpoint of raw supplies.

The producing ore mines of the Lake Superior district are now concentrated in the hands of the United States Steel Corporation, and a few independent concerns. It is said that the steel combine holds about 70 per cent of the ore mines of the district mentioned, and that figured on a basis of last year's production and at the present rate of consumption, the ore supplies of the company are guaranteed for half a century.

One steel official made the interesting statement today that the ore produced by certain exploited Canadian districts was of such an inferior quality as to make it almost unfit for use in the manufacture of high grade steel. He explained that it was too high in sulphur.

Schwab's Estimate Conservative.

"There is a big demand for ore properties at the present time," said he. "The fact that so little success has accompanied the vast amount of prospecting that has been going on for the past 12 months convinces me that President Schwab's estimate of the value of the ore properties of the United States Steel Corporation was a very conservative one."

The statement referred to was made by President Schwab in the answer of the steel corporation to the suit brought to restrain it from carrying out its stock conversion plan. President Schwab said in part:

"The value of the iron and Bessemer ore properties represents less than the actual value of the ore which tests have shown to be practically in sight, and it would be impossible for the United States Steel Corporation or anyone else to purchase similar and equally advantageous and valuable ore properties in any part of the world."

A high official of the Standard Oil Company today gave emphatic denial to the report that a combination of the three monster oil interests of the world—Rockefeller, Rothschild and Noble—was contemplated.

"The Standard Oil Company," said the official, "rarely denies or confirms the hundreds of stories concerning the affairs of the corporation that are published in the newspapers. If we followed the policy of denying and confirming we would be compelled to establish a press bureau. However, we feel called upon to deny such a story as the one appearing in this morning's newspaper. There is not a word of truth in it. No combination, alliance or working agreement, or whatever you wish to call it, is contemplated. You can make the denial as emphatic as you like."

Denial Only Partly True.

Nothwithstanding the willingness on the part of the Standard Oil Company to repudiate the combination story, it is generally known that the corporation has been working in harmony with the Rothschilds for years. While the business relations of the Rothschild and Rockefeller interests are close, it does not necessarily mean that an agreement or working alliance has been arranged. Experts have been quoted as saying that the Russian oil is inferior in quality to that produced in America.

The situation into which obstructive and troublesome litigants can sometimes bring a great corporation is illustrated in the furtive way in which the Northern Securities Company gets rid of a dividend. The time is approaching for the declaration of another 1 per cent quarterly dividend, and rumors have began to abound concerning the clandestine doing of the directors of that corporation. The company has been forced into the novel and amusing position of denying that it has declared a dividend, or that it has any intention of doing so. Remembering the many vexatious tricks resorted to by the plaintiffs in the suits now pending, the directors are anxious not to make it possible for the enemy to cause them still further embarrassment by tying up a quarterly dividend. Each of the two preceding dividends has been suddenly put in the hands of stockholders without any announcement. It is very likely that the dividend has already been declared and stockholders have no doubt been told that they will receive checks by mail on or about August 1. Then the stock will sell "ex-dividend" for a day or two and soon thereafter return to the normal price level.

Wabash Is Doing Well.

The report of the earnings of Wabash for the fiscal year ended June 30 was issued today and makes a surprisingly favorable exhibit. During the entire 12 months extensive improvements were under way, which in some instances amounted to a complete reconstruction of the company's mileage. The making of these improvements unquestionably seriously interfered with the movement of traffic, but the statement of earnings would seem to indicate that it caused no very serious loss in revenue.

New York Airbrake went through one of its customary maneuvers today, the closing sale representing a net gain of 8¼ points. Associated with the rise were rumors of a closer alliance with Westinghouse interests, increased earnings, capital readjustment, etc. Reports, such as the foregoing, generally accompany New York Airbrake advances.

A feature of the situation, and one that is helping to sustain confidence, so far as stock market conditions are concerned, is the continued ease of money in the face of gold exports. Engagements of nearly $5,000,000 gold since Monday have failed to cause the lease ripple of the surface of the money situation. The average rate of 2¾ per cent for call money still exists, and bankers are of the opinion that considerable more gold will have to go out before rates begin to move upward. Borrowers are experiencing little difficulty in securing accommodations from the banks.

The North American Copper Company, with a capital of $20,000,000, will be formally incorporated in the state of New Jersey tomorrow. The stock is all of one class, and the incorporators are all associated with the Corporation Trust Company of New Jersey. E. W. HARDEN.

ATLANTIC COAST HOISTED.

California Geologist Agrees With Col. Demming that Mont Pelee Raised American Real Estate.

HARRISBURG, PA., July 30.—(Special.)—Col. Henry C. Demming still insists that Harrisburg and adjoining portions of Pennsylvania have been elevated by recent subterranean disturbances coincident with the eruption of Mont Pelee, and has gone to distant California to secure substantiation of his theory, which is discredited by the government geologists at Washington.

Prof. Oscar P. Hentzel, a California scientist, who is at present making geological observations in this vicinity for the benefit of western colleges, under whose joint authority he was sent east, verifies Col. Demming's assertions. He also says the Atlantic coast, so far as he has examined it, has been raised by the disturbances.

J., July 30.—The North American Copper Company, with an authorized capital of $20,000,000 was incorporated this afternoon to mine, smelt and manufacture copper, zinc, gold, silver and other metals. The incorporators are Raymond Newman and Frederick K. Seward of New York and Kenneth K. McLaren of Jersey City.

Little Business Done in Wall Street

DEALINGS ON STOCK MARKET ARE NOT LARGE

Tone Throughout the Day Was Hesitating and Fluctuating.

BAD RAILROAD REPORTS

Statements of June Earnings from Several Western Roads Show That Cost of Operating Has Increased So as to Make Serious Difference.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 30.—There was a further contraction of dealings in today's stock market and a decidedly hesitating and fluctuating tone during the day. Professional traders were watchful for a turn in the tide of the market and kept prices fluctuating irregularly over a small range during the greater part of the day. There were no developments of great importance. The additional engagements of gold had been fully expected, and, in fact, turned out to be rather smaller than had been feared. There was evidences of continued liquidation on a large scale during the forenoon, which was attributed to the western party whose operations have come to prove a powerful influence in directing the course of a large speculative following in Wall street. The cessation of this liquidation was followed by scattering demonstrations of strength. The St. Louis and San Francisco securities were very buoyant, which caused a revival of rumors that they are to be taken in under the Rock Island plan.

Absorption Not Provided For.

The semi-official intimations of the plan of allotment of the new securities does not provide for this absorption. The movement served, however, to offset to some extent the depressing effect upon the stock market which has been caused by the discussion of the reports of the Rock Island plan. The rise in Chicago & Eastern Illinois and in Chicago & Alton and the firmness of Illinois Central seemed to be related. The abrupt rise in New York Airbrake is characteristic of that stock, and was without much sentimental effect elsewhere. The feverish tone of Colorado Fuel is attributed to doubts over the present control of the company, as it will be revealed at tomorrow's meeting of stockholders. It is reported that some of the shorts on this stock have bought convertible bonds for protection, and the fact that the rights of conversion cease tomorrow may have been an incentive to buying of the stock by shorts. Some of the statements of net earnings for June served to rather emphasize the effect of Atchison's decrease, reported yesterday.

Operating Cost Increasing.

The increased cost of operating showed a tendency to encroach upon increases in gross earnings and in some cases to practically wipe out the gain in gross. The tendency was perceptible in Wabash, in Union Pacific and St. Paul. But this influence was dissipated in the reviving effect of the late rally in which all of those stocks, and particularly St. Paul, shared.

The market became somewhat excited in the last hour on the varying reports current of the scope of a St. Louis & San Francisco and Chicago & Eastern Illinois consolidation. The closing, however, was irregular. The generally favorable tenor of the weather bureau's weekly crop summary and the favorable weather reports of today were helpful factors in the market. The continued tranquility of the money market in face of the gold exports had a reassuring effect upon sentiment. The sub-treasury made a liberal disbursement to the money market and advices from Seattle were received of a deposit of $1,000,000 gold there to be credited to New York.

Talked About in Wall Street

NEW YORK, July 31.—The Herald this (Thursday) morning says:

Professional stock market sentiment was mixed in Wall street yesterday, and prices moved irregularly for the greater portion of the day, closing with a recovery which reached substantial proportions in most of the active issues. Manipulative movements for the advance conflicted with realizing sales and professional short selling, but toward the last, upon the revival of a number of deal stories, based upon the reported acquisition of Chicago & Eastern Illinois by the St. Louis & San Francisco road, traders covered their short contracts and imparted an appearance of strength to the general list. There were no signs of public interest in the market.

* * *

The market was intensely dull in the early dealings, but the reactionary tendency was not so general as in the late trading of Tuesday, though numerous issues were heavy. The market improved in many quarters after the opening, but was extremely variable at times, and this feature was in evidence even up to the close. The early announcement of gold engagements of $1,100,000, making about $7,500,000 thus far in the present movement had no adverse influence, possibly because the amount was so much less than the extravagant estimates placed on the shipments in Tuesday's late rumors. Money, both for time and call, continued unchanged, but demand sterling still rules at the gold point.

* * *

It was noted that despite the irregularity of the last three days that quite a number of stocks yesterday sold at new high records, among them being Chicago & Eastern Illinois, Detroit United Railways, George A. Fuller preferred, Hocking Valley, Illinois Central, Pere Marquette preferred, St. Louis & San Francisco common, and the first and second preferred, Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis preferred.

* * *

London was not a factor in the dealings of the day, total transactions falling to about 15,000 shares, about equally divided between purchaser and sales. Cable advices reported that sales of American stocks in London were for the account of New York. So far as could be judged from outside appearances, the Rock Island capital readjustment plan played little part in yesterday's market, but in banking circles the keenest interest is still manifested over the undertaking and the course which the company will take to find a market for the new creations of stocks and bonds.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

The comptroller has approved the Park National bank of Cleveland as a reserve agent of the German National bank of Allegheny.

The comptroller of the currency has authorized W. H. Brown, C. A. Port, John S. Detweiler, J. R. Davidson and F. E. Markell to organize the Citizens National bank of Connellsville, with $100,000 capital.

The differences between the striking electricians and the New York contractors having in charge the electrical work at the White House, were adjusted and the men returned to work.

The war department received a cablegram from Manila reporting the death of Second Lieutenant Albert Jossman, Twenty-seventh infantry, of wounds received in action against the Moros at Bayan, Mindanao.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—Commenting upon the purchase of the Iron Mountain iron deposits by P. L. Kimberley and associates of Sharon, Pa., an expert states that the outcrop shows more ore than in the iron ranges of the Lake Superior district. The physical construction of the Utah ores is also equal to the old range ores. They contain hematite, limonite and the blue specular varieties of the Menominee district, and one-third of them will make a first-class Bessemer mixture. The transaction has caused quite a stir in Utah, where talk of leading the rest of the country in iron production is already heard.

The main tunnel of the Baltimore, near Elko, Nev., has cut a ledge 30 feet across. Nineteen feet of it carries 10½ per cent copper, 8 ounces silver and $1 60 gold to the ton.

In the Centennial-Emma at Alta, Utah, a vein of iron pyrites has been encountered in an upraise from a drift off the main tunnel at a depth of 200 feet from the surface.

Development work on the Blaine in Death Canyon, Utah, is progressing rapidly. The tunnel is in 300 feet, which gives a depth of 200 feet. White and blue limestone well speckled with galena has been exposed.

Joplin's last week shipments amounted to 8,679,660 pounds of zinc ore valued at $150,576, and 1,416,860 of lead worth $34,361. Sales for the seven months of the year have aggregated: Zinc, $4,627,720, and lead, $608,078; total, $5,333,804. Zinc declined to $40 50 last week and lead advanced to $40 per ton.

A two-foot streak of good ore is exposed in the breast of the Kelly tunnel at Georgetown, Col. The strike is 720 feet from the entrance and 400 feet below the surface. Within the next 500 feet the tunnel should reach the great lead belt of Democrat mountain.

The Homestake, near Kingman, Ariz., will soon be fitted out with a large milling plant. Big ore bodies continue to be opened in the mine. The average runs about $8 per ton, and the cost of mining and milling is less than $2 per ton.

In making an open cut on the Horse Shoe, west of Old Caribou Camp, Col., a vein eight feet wide was exposed. Twenty inches of it shows 35 per cent copper, $30 gold and $45 silver.

The Hidden Treasure at Grand Encampment, Wyo., has encountered another body of high-grade ore in the tunnels. Rich sulphide ore has been found in the Cascade tunnel.

The Metal Market.

With the exception of tin, prices were without essential change today. The local price for tin improved about ¼c on a fair demand; offerings being limited. Spot closed at $28 10@28 30. The foreign price dropped 17s 6d for the day; however, closing with spot at £127 10s and futures at £123 12s 6d. The feature in copper locally was its extreme dullness; standard, spot to September, closed at $11 30@11 55; Lake Superior, $11 75@12 00; electrolytic, $11 30@11 60, and casting, $11 65@11 75. At London rather a firmer market was reported, with prices up 7s 6d for the day. Spot closed at £82 15s and futures at £83. Lead also improved slightly in the English market, gaining 1s 3d, to £11 15s 6d. At New York quotations were at 4¼@4½c. The local price of spelter was steady at 5¾c. London declined 2s 6d, closing at £18 17s 6d. English iron markets were reported as lower, Glasgow at 56s 3d, and Middlesboro at 50s, 10½d. Locally prices were unchanged and the market dull. Warrants were nominal. No. 1 foundry northern, $22 00@25 00; No. 2 foundry northern, $22 00@23 00; No. 1 foundry southern, $22 00@23 00. No. 1 foundry southern, soft, $22 00@23 00.

Dull Day on Chicago Grain Market

MAIN INTEREST IS CENTERED IN JULY OATS PIT

Corner Will Probably Have to Be Definitely Settled Today.

BEARS HAVE WHIP HAND

Traders Assert That Great Amount of Trade Has Been Kept from Chicago Market by Too Much Manipulation—Wheat Recovered.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, July 30.—Unsettled by the closing operations in July corners, all the grain markets today were ragged, yet withal rather dull. Despite the fact that a marginal price of 45c was put on July new oats yesterday, the bulls in this deal were very stubborn and sold almost nothing, indicating the probability that the July oats corner will have to be settled in the open pit tomorrow. In other options of this and other grains bears had the whip hand early and pressed prices down. Covering for short account, a developing speculative and export demand and estimated curtailed shipments to this center, however, checked declines in the new crop deliveries and put fresh vigor in the July deals. At the close July wheat was 1⅞c higher, September wheat ¼c up, July corn 2½c higher, September corn ⅜c down, September oats ⅛c up and July oats 3c higher. Provisions closed 10c to 22½c up.

Bad Blood Is Evident.

There was bad blood between the bulls and bears on the oats situation. Much comment over the marginal price of 45c piqued the shorts, but they in turn were incensed over the attitude of the prominent men who are exacting the uttermost farthing from the shorts in July contracts at a time when such action is not considered good commercial policy. Traders generally were wroth over the great amount of trade that has been kept from the Chicago market lately by too much manipulation. All day legal proceedings were threatened to protect shorts. Plenteous receipts weakened the deferred futures early, but in July the probability that no relief was to be expected at the hands of the bull clique influenced sharp advances and a nervous tone. The congested option sold from 60c to a strong close at 63c, 3c higher than yesterday's close. September dipped to 31¾c early, depressed by the early weakness in corn. When other grains rallied, however, and July showed itself strong, September rallied to a firm close, ⅜c up at 32¼c. Receipts were 364 cars, 128 of contract grade.

Wheat Finally Advanced.

Wheat had a very weak appearance early but ultimately recovered its position and advanced. Early bearish incentives were heavy receipts, both primary and local, lower cables and favorable weather, September was sold freely early and large quantities came out on stop loss orders as the price broke under 70c. The local crowd soon started an upturn, however, braced to some extent by talk of hot weather in the northwest, and of a big export business at the lower prices. A leading elevator concern took the cereal liberally and augmented the rally. July, in which recently there has been considerable deliveries, was wanted by shorts and assumed a firm position. The short interest in September helped in the upturn. The volume of the wheat movement seems to be undiminished, but for the time being this influence seems to have lost its full effect. July opened ¼c down at 73c, dipped to 72¾c, rallied to 73¼c and closed strong, 1⅞c up at 73½c. It is thought there is a fairly numerous July short interest that will have to settle in the open market tomorrow.

Local Wheat Receipts.

September opened ½c to ¼c down at 70¼c to 70½c, declined to 69¾c, sold up to 70¾c and closed firm, 1⅜c up at 70½c. Local receipts were 219 cars, 8 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 138 cars, making a total for the three points of 357 cars, against 491 a year ago. Primary receipts were 1,359,000 bushels, against 1,121,000 last year.

Corn early suffered extreme depression, caused by a renewal of liberal September selling on lower cables and fine weather, and an almost total absence of support. Prospects of a very large crop, made doubly probable by perfect corn growing weather, was one of the principal bearish incentives. September bro

Local Stocks Were Intensely Dull and Almost Featureless

BULL TIPS ON ELECTRIC SECONDS OUT

Rumor Says the Price Will Jump Sharply by the Middle of August.

BEARS SAY IT'S A DREAM

Window Glass Dull, but Steady. Steels Fractionally Lower—Crucibles About Steady—The Coalers Showed Easier—Bonds Quiet.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was intensely dull—in fact, it was about the poorest day of the year, because there was scarcely an order of any size on the floor, and hardly energy enough to "work" one if it had appeared. The total sales were a little less than 2,600 shares, but at the opening there was scarcely a chance that the figures would more than reach the 1,000 mark. As the day dragged out its listless existence there was very little to brighten it, and at the close the brokers were principally discussing vacation plans and proposals. The bulls on Westinghouse Electric seconds are again industriously at work, but the bears say they are having "pipe dreams." The tipsters say the stock is out in the preliminary stages of a big advance, which in thanks for its high record of 115¼ look ashamed. Indeed, the entire "street" seems permeated with the idea that Electric seconds are going to jump to 125 by the middle of August and then pursue a more or less steady path to 150 or thereabouts. But there is no satisfactory basis for such tips, and so the bears give the bulls the laugh. President George Westinghouse is expected to sail for this country about August 13, and the presumption is that the delayed annual meeting will then shortly occur; but there is nothing definite. Another inferential bull argument is that the General Electric Company is showing enormous earnings and consequently the Westinghouse Electric Company should be doing approximately as well or better. In dull times like these the "street" must have something to gossip about, but the conservative ones sit back and say "maybe so, and then—maybe no." It's well for the bulls to remember, however, that just at present earning power seems to figure about zero in market values. The stock yesterday sold but 200 shares and closed 106¼—a gain of ¼. In the remaining sales there was practically nothing worthy of comment. Window Glass was very dull at 61. Crucible Steel common ¼ lower at 21¼, and the preferred ¼ higher at 86. A large block of the latter was offered at 86 at the close. United States Steels were very quiet at fractional losses. Fire Proofing issues were in a similar condition. River Coal preferred declined ¼ to 39½ and Pittsburgh Coal common ⅝ to 26¼. The preferred was ¼ higher at 90¼. All were dull. Brewing stocks were dull at narrow changes. Bonds were very quiet but steady.

The following is a complete summary of yesterday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the changes in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers.

Colorado Fuel and Iron bonks close today. As there is a small crowd for control a good many of the shorts covered yesterday, fearing a squeeze. The stock loaned at ⅜ per cent premium for use.

Nathaniel R. Evans, Henry Sproul & Co.'s exchange representative was married last evening to Miss Margery James, at home in the East End. Mr. Evans is one of the most popular and successful brokers on the Pittsburgh board of trade and the members presented the bride with a chest of solid silver.

It is said Boston speculators have been badly bit in Sugar. They began to bull the stock around 130, some weeks ago and were so distracted by the buying of their manipulations that when the stock went below 125 they went short wholesale only to be squeezed into hurried settlement by the raise of half a dozen points. President Havemeyer is said to have engineered the scheme himself. The crowd is deluging Wall street with bull rumors while the stock is going contrarywise.

At the annual meeting of the Pittsburgh Provision and Packing Company, William A. Callery was re-elected president; Samuel W. Allerton, vice president, and John F. Howley, secretary and treasurer. Mr. Callery, Mr. Allerton and Simon O'Donnell were elected directors. At the meeting of the company shows an increase of 50 per cent over the previous year, and a semi-annual dividend of 6 per cent was declared, making 12 per cent for the fiscal year closed. The company's capital is $400,000.

It is reported that the St. Louis & San Francisco Company has secured absolute control of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois through ownership of the stock. It is stated the purpose is to issue certificates of control in exchange for the stock at the rate of $35 each. Illinois stock on a basis of about 2½ certificates for one share of stock, these certificates to bear 4 per cent interest and to be a direct obligation of the Frisco company, first being collateral for the certificates. It is further reported that the Frisco Company is now practically owned by the interests which control the Southern. The Frisco and Chicago & Eastern Illinois are said to be the only roads possibly connected with the Southern-Louisville & Nashville deal. Another report is that the Frisco Company leased the Chicago & Eastern Illinois on a guarantee of 8 per cent for a period of 99 years.

Wall Street Brokers' "Tips."

Sentiment is decidedly mixed. I myself do not feel particularly bullish and should prefer to sell on rallies for the time being.

The announcement of further gold engagements for export added to the influence of realizing and also in checking operations temporarily for an advance.

We believe that the good stocks can be safely bought for a turn and think that the recent reaction that we have had has opened the way for a greater advance than we have recently had.—Lounsbery.

The Illinois Central seemed to be an exception to the general trend of the market and this stock seemed to be in good demand around 170. The buying of this stock for the past few days has been excellent and they seem to be willing to take an almost unlimited amount. The buying looks as though it came from the Hawley contingent and is probably in anticipation of some developments in connection with the property later on.

The effect of the declining market has tended to reduce commission house business materially and has no doubt caused considerable reductions in commitments of commission house orders and consequently will show a reduction in loans.

Holders of Denver preferred should average around 12% gold dividends in the Hoosing Valley, since there is now talk of a ripening melon. Quit the industrials and do not be afraid of Coppers. Boston is talking 75 for Copper Range, which has been quoted around 60. Buy Sugar on any further dip, but take quick profits. Illinois Central, Canadian Pacific and Gould shares may safely be held.—Josephs.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

Developments in the Lower Southwest were rather tame yesterday. Few wells were completed and none of the gusher kind.

On Big Knot run, Clay district, Ritchie county, W. Va., the Mallory Bros. & Co. No. 1 John Freeland, and the Three Jees Oil Co.'s No. 1 on the Wagner farm, are now on very good terms. The first named is producing 400 and the last 450 barrels a day.

In the new Gordon sand development, southwest of Littleton, Wetzel county, the Philadelphia Company has drilled its test on the D. L. & W. Anderson farm through all sands and has a duster. South of this well, 1,000 feet, the same company has drilled its No. 2 on the J. S. Anderson farm into the Big Injun and has developed a strong gas pressure.

In the Marshall-Wetzel county Gordon territory, the Southern Oil Company & Greenlee have drilled their test on the Clem S. Thorne farm into the Gordon and have a show for a good producer. The location of this well is 1,200 feet northeast of the same company's good producer on the W. N. Cunningham farm.

Shooting Helps the Flows.

In the "Little Germany" district, Marshall county, dosing the wells with high explosive fluid helps increase their production. The South Penn gave its No. 1 on the Redfox farm a shot yesterday, and the ensuing 18 hours the well produced 180 barrels. No. 3 on the A. L. Courtright farm was shot and responded with a larger flow.

The Eclipse Oil Company went on the principle that if a little shot would do good, a large one would do better, and gave its No. 1 on the Joseph Basehart farm a 100-quart nemetic, and the result was 85 barrels production the first 14 hours.

West of Blacksville, Greene county, Pa., the South Penn Company has rebuilt the rig destroyed by lightning at its No. 2 on the Samuel S. Eddy farm, and is now drilling in the top of the sand. The completion of this well is awaited with considerable interest. The location is 1,200 feet north of No. 1 on the same farm, which was drilled in more than three months ago, and is still producing 115 barrels a day, and south of the Ft. Pitt Gas Company's No. 1 on the Wisef arm, a small producer drilled in last week. should the No. 2 Samuel S. Eddy prove better than an ordinary producer it will be a surprise, notwithstanding No. 1 on the same farm started at 700 barrels a day.

What Some of the Gauges Show.

This list shows some of the South Penn Oil Company's gauges in the Folsom district, Wetzel county, W. Va.: Jacob Cunningham No. 5, 345 barrels; W. N. Cunningham Nos. 3 and 4, 200 and 300 barrels respectively; Fairfield Tenement No. 1, 1,500 barrels; Keeling heirs' No. 2, 160 barrels, and I. N. Martin No. 1, 100 barrels a day.

In Wood county, on the Volcano oil and coal tracts, Clark & Hines have completed their No. 6 and have a small pumper in the salt sand.

In the Eureka district, Pleasants county, Tate & Patterson have completed No. 10 on G. W. H. Dye farm and have a 10-barrel pumper in the first Cow Run sand.

On the Ohio side, in the new Kenet sand district, northwest of Rinardo Mills, in Monroe county, the Nellie Oil Company has drilled in its No. 2 on the William Johnson farm and has a show for a 20-barrel producer. In the same district the Southern Oil Company has drilled in test on the Widow Hughes farm and has a show for a 25-barrel producer. The same company has drilled in a second test on the Wesley Parks farm and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper.

In the Wilking district, Washington county, the Waldie Oil Company has drilled in its No. 2 on the Margaret McFarland farm and has a 20-barrel producer.

Alexander, Landon & Co. have completed their No. 16 on the Spies farm and have a duster.

Trapp & Co. have drilled their test on the Daniels farm into the top of the sand and have a show for a good producer.

Hovis & Dyer's No. 11 on the McNeal farm has been drilled in and is good for 5 barrels a day.

In Local Territory.

At Legionville, Beaver county, Pa., Snyder & Co.'s No. 3 on the Baker heirs' farm has declined to 105 barrels, and Bender, Bettes & Co.'s Frost No. 1 on the Oliver Graham farm is holding up at 110 barrels a day.

The Pittsburgh Natural Gas companies are giving a good deal of attention to the Speechley sand territory, in Butler and Armstrong counties. Each of Presgrove, on the last named county, there is quite a little activity.

The Carnegie Natural Gas Company has within the past week completed a good gasser on Judge Reyburn's farm and another on the Weaver farm. In the same district the Philadelphia Company has drilled in a very nice gasser on the Wilson farm. The Carnegie Company will turn its wells into its 10-inch main, which runs to Homestead, when the gas is used for fuel in the big steel mills. This is the only gas company in Pittsburgh that does not sell gas. Its line is extended into a half dozen counties in Pennsylvania, and up to one of the richest gas territory in West Virginia, but it all goes to Homestead, and the supply is ample for that. Keep the big plant running.

The wells back of Freeport are good for from 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 cubic feet a day. In this territory the Speechley sand is reached at an average depth of 800 feet. In the same county, on the opposite side of the river, the Peoples Gas Company is getting some good wells in the same formation. The success that has attended the development of the Speechley sand territory so close at home, will not make it necessary to draw so heavily on West Virginia for the coming winter's supply of the vaporous fluid.

REMOVING THE OBJECTIONS.

Baltimore and Ohio Buying Property Affected by Second Avenue Plans.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad is quietly making all the arrangements needful to remove objections to the passage of the ordinance before councils for the exchange of the site of its tracks for Second avenue from Greenfield avenue to Hazelwood. The property that would be affected is being secured in many instances and in other cases settlements are being made.

It is believed that the ordinance will be brought up before long and that the long-promised improvements will be made a fact. The trouble with the freight congestion which the Baltimore & Ohio, like other lines, is experiencing just now, fathers a hope that this work may be hurried.

ROBINSON-REA PROPERTY SOLD FOR $350,000

P. & L. E. R. R. Said to Have Purchased It for Yard Purposes.

$81,000 MT. LEBANON SALE

Good Exchange Deal in East End.

Building Boom Is on at Clairton.

Bradley Place Becoming Popular.

A Diamond Street Protest.

The property of the Robinson-Rea Manufacturing Company on the South Side has been sold for a price approximating $350,000. The new owner, according to report, is the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company, whose holdings it adjoins on the east. The property is one of the best known manufacturing sites on the South Side, having a frontage of 173.5 feet on the north side of Carson street, a short distance east of the Smithfield street bridge and extending back about 400 feet to the tracks of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie. A large foundry building is the only improvement on the lot. Adjoining this lot on the east is the property of the Keystone Commercial Company, formerly the Henderson-Johnston Company, which will be improved soon with 10 modern warehouses. The late purchases of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie on the west of it are being made ready for additional tracks, nearly all the old buildings to Smithfield street having been razed for this purpose. As this railroad is known to have desired the property for some time, the story that it has now secured it is generally credited, and the lot will probably be used for yards.

Big Deal at Mt. Lebanon.

The sale of the Fetterman farm at Mt. Lebanon, pending for several weeks, has been closed through the agency of Haas & Lauinger. The purchaser proves to be Thomas G. Orr, who gets title to the property from the heirs of the late Judge C. H. Fetterman. The consideration was $81,000. The farm includes 70.25 acres, making the price a little over $1,000 an acre. It is located near the Mt. Lebanon Presbyterian church and directly across the street from the Espy place farm plan, which has been such a popular lot seller. The farm has a frontage of 2,100 feet along the Washington street car line. On it is erected the old Fetterman mansion, a frame residence of 16 rooms. A survey of the farm has just been completed and the work of grading and paving the streets will be started this morning. It is said that the purchase was made in the interest of a land company, but no particulars could be learned regarding this part of the transaction except that it would be put on the market in lots next spring. This sale, which is the largest deal in the Mt. Lebanon district for several months, destroys another of the old country homesteads which were famous a few years ago for their hospitality and good cheer.

East End Properties Exchanged.

An exchange deal amounting to $42,500 has been completed, the parties to the transfer being Simon S. Smith and John W. Pollins. The former conveys to Mr. Pollins two East End properties for a consideration of $30,000. One of them is a part of the old William Haves property in the Nineteenth ward, and consists of a lot 55x105 feet, facing in Avondale place. The lot is improved with a large brick house. The other property is a store building standing on a lot 62x100 feet on the north side of Frankstown avenue near Inwood street, Twenty-first ward. In part payment for these two properties Mr. Pollins conveyed to Mr. Smith an improved lot 85x128 feet at the southeast corner of Murtland avenue and Susquehanna street, Twenty-first ward. This property was put into the deal at $12,500, the balance being paid in cash.

A report was current yesterday that a large parcel of property on the east side of Smithfield street, between Second and Third avenues, is about to change hands. The lot mentioned extends back to Cherry alley and is improved with three-story brick buildings. Gilbert Rafferty was named as the purchaser, but no details of the deal if there is one, could be obtained.

Getting Ready for the Push.

The new town of Clairton is having a substantial building boom this summer to make it ready for the 2,000 workingmen that will go there in the fall to man the big plant of the Clairton Steel Company. Over 240 houses are now in course of erection in the town. Of these 150 are being built by the Clairton Land Company and will be rented only to employes of the steel company. The remainder are being built by individuals who have bought lots for homes. Most of the houses going up are five and six-room frame dwellings, costing from $1,800 to $2,500 each. Besides the foregoing a three-story brick hotel, to cost $45,000, is now under way. This will be the property of the St. Clair Improvement Company, which has been chiefly instrumental in bringing about the improvements, are W. H. Smith, president; R. C. Cornelius, secretary; W. A. Carr, treasurer.

A $90,000 Plant.

The new plant of the United Ice Supply Company, at Hazelwood, is completed and the ice plant has been in operation several days. The buildings extend from Lytle to Hamister streets and cost, with their equipment, $80,000. The ice plant has a daily capacity of 50 tons. In addition to this the firm proposes to handle all kinds of coal and heavy supplies and a trestle is now being built to accommodate their shipments.

Thomas Green of Hazelwood is having plans drawn for a two-story flat building to be erected in Trenton avenue, at a cost of $8,500. The building will contain seven flats of five rooms each.

During the thunderstorm, Monday night, the steeple of the Presbyterian church at Hazelwood was struck and damaged to the amount of $100. The same steeple was struck at almost the same date last year and nearly wrecked.

Fine Houses in Bradley Place.

Building in Bradley place, the new residence square in Shadyside, is on the increase, and the kind of houses in course of erection is evidence that the spot is to be what it was intended, a choice residence section. Lot No. 3 in Center avenue, just across from the residence of Philip Flinn, has been bought by James W. Platt, who will build a $22,000 brick and stone house this fall. Another fine residence, to cost $20,000, in Center avenue, is just being completed for James S. Montgomery. At the corner of Brown and Morewood avenues W. S. Lincoln has purchased a lot and is having plans drawn for a $10,000 residence. Farther down Morewood avenue, at the corner of Millvale avenue, Frank A. Hite is putting the finishing touches on two center hall houses, which will cost $6,000 each. Jesse H. Purdy has lately bought a lot in Brown avenue for $7,000 and will build a handsome residence at once. Negotiations are now pending for the purchase of three more properties in Bradley place by persons living on the west side of Linden avenue. These parties have sold their properties to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and desire to secure homes together when they locate again.

July Buildings Put at $3,500,000.

Yesterday's total of building permits will do considerable to swell the total amount for July to $3,500,000, the [illegible] which Capt. J. A. A. Brown, superintendent of building inspection, is sure will be reached before Friday. It is to be noted that the permits that have been taken out lately have been mostly for good buildings, especially in the matter of house permits, which have averaged $5,000 or over. The list that follows is no exception to this rule and shows that individual owners are not hesitating longer about building: To Mrs. Birdie Morton, for a brick store and apartment building in Brushton avenue, Thirty-seventh ward, to cost $35,000; to E. C. H. Schmidt, for a brick dwelling at North Fairmount and Kincaid streets, Nineteenth ward, to cost $5,000; to Carl Cappel, for two brick dwellings in Moultrie street, Fourteenth ward, to cost $4,600; to Andrew Kazmiesiski, for a frame three-story flat, No. 316 Hancock street, Thirteenth ward, to cost $4,000; to Mrs. Harriett K. Hawman, for a brick veneered dwelling in Dunmoyle avenue, Twenty-second ward, to cost $8,000; to Sara E. Warren, for a brick dwelling in Negley avenue, Twentieth ward, to cost $14,000.

In Allegheny permits were granted to W. G. Stewart, for the erection of a two-story frame dwelling in Falk street, near Fleming avenue, to cost $3,200; to C. A. Loughman, for a two-story brick dwelling in Wabash avenue, Fifth ward, to cost $6,000.

Here's a Starter.

Trouble in the matter of widening Diamond alley began yesterday when Henry A. Davis filed an exception to the report of the board of viewers published last week. Mr. Davis, who owns an improved lot on the south side of the street, proved lot on the south side of the street, was assessed $16,000, which, he claims, is $9,000 too much. A deal is now on for the sale of the lot and if the intending purchaser will pay the required assessment the exception will be withdrawn. Other property owners on the south side of the street are preparing to file exceptions before September 1, the time limit set by the board, and further say that they will carry the matter to the highest court if they are turned down in the first case.

RECTORS ON VACATIONS.

August Will See Many of the Heads of the Protestant Episcopal Churches Away.

For the first time in a number of years every Protestant Episcopal church and the missions attached thereto in Pittsburgh and Allegheny will be open during the vacation period this year. This is brought about principally by the mandate of the Rt. Rev. Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead, who requires the rectors to make arrangements to have services held in their churches while they are away on vacation. This year nearly every Episcopal parish in the two cities of any importance is supporting an assistant rector, and this makes it possible for all such parishes to have regular services.

Last year St. Andrew's and other churches were closed during August, and Bishop Whitehead is said to have been displeased at the abandoning of services.

Next week many of the rectors will leave for their vacations. Archdeacon Lewis F. Cole goes on Tuesday next to Portland, Me. The Rev. Dr. W. W. Orange of the church of the Ascension and the Rev. J. W. Sykes of St. Mary's Memorial leave this week. Mr. Sykes goes to Norfolk, Va. The Rev. Dr. E. H. Ward of St. Peter's leaves next week for his annual outing. He will be accompanied by his family. The Rev. Dr. John Crockar White of St. Andrew's will also leave next week. The Rev. Dr. A. W. Arundel of Trinity and the Rev. J. H. McIlvaine of Calvary are already enjoying the sweets of vacation days.

A letter was received at the Church club yesterday from Bishop Whitehead stating that he had arrived in New York. He was a passenger on the steamer Minnehaha, which took The Gazette's tourist party abroad. Mrs. Whitehead and her family joined the bishop yesterday. They will spend the remaining days, until August 20, among the Berkshire hills.

COMMON COUNCIL TO MEET.

President Crawford Summons Members Into Session Next Monday.

President Charles S. Crawford of common council yesterday called a meeting of that branch for next Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The meeting is, of course, a special one, as no regular meetings are held during the month of August. A meeting of the finance committee is called for 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Some disposition is to be made of the garbage ordinance, and some measures for street and sewer improvements are also to be considered.

Pure Brandy.

Letter from a noted editor and writer:
Mr. Speer:—Lady Duffus Harding of London, an old acquaintance of mine, on tasting of Speer's Climax Brandy we brought from America, immediately asked me to order some for her. Yours truly,
PRENTICE MULFORD,
Editor Graphic, London.

The times change and we change with them. Twenty years ago manufacturers and dealers packed their Summer Stocks away. Today they do nothing of the kind—THEY KNOW BETTER. They know that the first loss is the best—that to pack goods away from one Summer to another means dead capital, loss of interest, storage costs and insurance charges. Besides, styles are liable to change, and, if they do, 1902 goods will not be worth half of their present value in 1903. Under these circumstances, prudence dictates but one course, and that is an IMMEDIATE, ABSOLUTE and ENTIRE clearance. This we have determined to accomplish, and, in order that there shall be no such word as "Fail", we offer

Our Entire Stock of Men's Suits at 50% Less Than the Marked Prices

(Full Dress Suits and Uniforms only excepted). And, mind this, we guarantee OUR marked prices, in every instance, LOWER than the lowest elsewhere for the same qualities, and it's from these lowest of low prices that we give a clean, clear cash discount of 50 per cent. For instance:

All Men's Suits Marked $5, go at $2.50.
All Men's Suits Marked $7, go at $3.50.
All Men's Suits Marked $10, go at $5.00.
All Men's Suits Marked $12, go at $6.00.
All Men's Suits Marked $15, go at $7.50.
All Men's Suits Marked $18, go at $9.00.
All Men's Suits Marked $20, go at $10.
All Men's Suits Marked $25, go at $12.50.
All Men's Suits Marked $30, go at $15.

It's simply an unconditional sacrifice of every Man's Suit in the house. Go right through our entire stock and select any Suit you please (Full Dress Suits and Uniforms only excepted) and it's yours for exactly One-Half the plainly marked price. Shrewd men who have an eye to business will need no urging to be on hand today when TWO Suits can be had for the usual price of one.

All Men's 2-Piece Summer Outing Suits and All Prince Albert Coats and Vests are included in this ½ Off the Marked Price Sale.
